FORTIETH CONGRESS.

The Impeachment Trial—Conclusion of Mr. Nelson's Argument in Behalf of the President.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 24, 1868.

SENATE.

At the opening of the Court CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE stated the first business was the order offered for consideration yesterday by Senator Grimes, that the hour for the meeting of the Senate shall be twelve o'clock.

The order was adopted—21 against 13.

Senator EDMUNDS offered an order to admit official reporters to report speeches on the final deliberation of the Senate.

Objected to by Senator SUMNER, and it went over under the rules.

Mr. NELSON resumed his speech, and concluded his argument of yesterday in support of the proposition that no offences are impeachable except those which were deemed crimes and misdemeanors by the common law at the time the Constitution was framed.

Referring to the portion of Mr. Boutwell's speech which illustrates the President's alleged perverse nature by his treatment of a gentleman who was to have been one of his counsel, Mr. Nelson made the statement that Judge Black withdrew from the case simply because the President refused to send vessels to seize Alta Vela, a refusal made on the ground of public duty, against the solicitations of friends and implied threats of enemies. Quoting the expressions of Mr. Boutwell, that the advice given to the President by his Cabinet was that of serfs to their Lord, or counsel offered in fear of losing their places, he reminded the Managers that they had put in evidence a message which showed that their friend Stanton had proffered the advice thus characterized, and that he now might cry "save me from my friends," if they made him out the servile serf.

Alluding briefly to the high commendation of the President, written by Mr. Stanton in 1866, and to the strangeness of the fact that the President is only to be impeached for offenses against the defunct Thirty-ninth Congress, Mr. Nelson proceeded to consider the Articles of Impeachment separately. He held, in the first place, that there was a distinction made by both common and statute law between a crime and an attempt to commit a crime, and as the Civil Tenure bill relates only to actual removals from office, and the President made none, the charges made in most of the articles fail; but aside from this objection, which, though technical, should still, he claimed, have weight, he would maintain three propositions, namely: That the Tenure-of-Office law is void. If it is not, Mr. Stanton's case is not covered by it, and that even if it is legal and applicable, the President is not guilty of crime, because he acted from a laudable motive. He quoted at great length from the debates on the formation of the Constitution and on the passage of the act of 1789, and from numerour legal authorities, to show that the question of the President's power of removal was definitely settled by the action of Congress at that time, and claimed therefore he had grounds for honestly forming the opinion on which he acted, from the Constitutional requirement that the Attorney General is to furnish the President with opinions in writing, and the fact that such opinions are collected and bound by the authority of Congress, Mr. Nelson argued they have a quasi authoritative character for the President's action. He then cited a large number of opinions of various Attorney Generals since the formation of the Government, in which they place the same construction on the law of 1798, and express the same views regarding the power of removal as President Johnson. He referred also to the opinion of Mr. Jefferson, to the action of President Jackson, and to that of the Senate in expunging its resolution of censure on him, and then, recapitulating the authorities and precedents for Mr. Johnson's course and policy, insisted that the presumption of honest intent was clearly made out.

He next considered the position that Congress has by implication superior power to the executive, and maintained that no greaterpowers were granted in that way to the legislative than to the executive branch of the Government.

At this point the Senate took a recess for fifteen minutes.

On reassembling Mr. Nelson continued the citation of authorities in support of the President's views on the question of his power of removal, and proceeded to argue that the President had the same power to construct acts of Congress as Congress itself, again supporting his views by numerous quotations.

All the preceding arguments he held proved the Tenure-of-Office law unconstitutional and void.

At considerable length Mr. Nelson then elaborated the proposition that no charge can be maintained which did not allege criminal intent, which he said has not been, except in the fifth article. In the course of his remarks he spoke of the friendly embrace of Mr. Stanton and General Thomas, and the equal division of the spoonfull of liquor between them as the most remarkable exhibition of force on record. [Great laughter.] And while eulogizing the honesty and simplicity of General Thomas, explained his language to Mr. Burleigh and others as caused not only by pride of office, but by the enlivening effect of the good liquor consumed on the appearance of the supplemental bottle. He proceeded to give a humorous and satirical account of the arrest and subsequent discharge of Gen. Thomas, ridiculing the idea that any one believed he designed to use force.

Passing to the consideration of the second and third articles, he adopted the statement in the President's answer as a sufficient reply to them. With regard to the fourth article, which charges conspiracy to obtain possession of the War Office by intimidation and threats, he claimed it was not covered by the act of 1861, which it was claimed was violated. The fifth article, alleging the intended employment of force, he held was not supported by the testimony. The sixth, in which a violation of the Tenure-of-Office law is also alleged, he considered disposed of by the argument on the constitutionality of that law. The seventh article was passed over with denials that the President's oath of office was violated by the offense charged. The eighth article he met by the argument that the alleged endeavor to obtain possession of monies in the War Department, even if made, was not in violation of the Civil Tenure law, as stated. With reference to the ninth article, he held that the President was in the line of his duty when conferring with Gen. Emory about the disposition of forces, and that no evidence whatever had been adduced to prove his purpose in that interview was evil. Considering the tenth article, he claimed it was based on the principles which underlie the sedition law, which, ever since its passage, had stunk in the nostrils of the American people. He held the President had followed the example of certain members of Congress in disregarding the amenities of expression, and was excusable for using strong language in reply to the abuse which had been heaped upon him. Mr. Nelson insisted that the preservation of the right of freedom of speech was indispensable to maintain our liberties.

After a brief consideration of the eleventh article, which he said was sufficiently answered by his remarks concerning the preceding article, he referred to the charge of Mr. Boutwell that the President wished to control the elections in the Southern States, and asked how that could be possible with the officers designated by Congress in command and exercing control over all that region.

In conclusion he reminded the Senate that trouble and confiscation had usually followed the exercise of revolutionary or constitutional power in the deposition of Kings and Rulers of the people, and implored them to so perform the high duties now devolving upon them as to merit the approbation of their conscience, their countrymen and their God.

The Court and Senate then, at 4:15 o'clock p. m. adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House attended in the Senate Chamber on the Impeachment trial. After return, the SPEAKER presented a number of Executive communications in reference to Indians and other subjects. Appropriately referred.

Mr. DAWES introduced a bill to facilitate the settlement of certain prize cases in the Southern District of Florida. Referred to Committee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. PRICE presented joint resolutions of the Iowa Legislature on the following subjects: In reference to making postmasters agents for the distribution of revenue stamps; to connect the waters of the Mississippi with the waters of Lake Michigan; to have the Iowa river declared unnavigable; in reference to bridging the Mississippi river.

Mr. COBB presented a memorial of the Wisconsin Legislature, asking for a grant of lands to aid in the construction of the Wisconsin Railway. Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

DELAWARE.

Republican State Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WILMINGTON, DEL., April 24. — The Republican State Convention of Delaware met at Dover yesterday. Nearly full delegations were present from all the counties. The following delegates were elected to Chicago to the Convention: Joshua L. Heald, Lewis Thompson, N. B. Smithers, Thos. B. Coursey, C. S. Layton and Isaac J. Jenkins.

Resolutions were passed favoring the nomination of General Grant and endorsing impeachment. Two of them are as follows:

Resolved, That we approve the plan adopted by Congress for the reorganization of the rebel States; that its vital principle, impartial suffrage, is just as well politic, and that in view of the action of Congress already had, as well as of justice, we express the hope that such an amendment of the Constitution of the United States will be made as will secure the application of the principle throughout the Republic.

Resolved, That we give our votes to and pledge our assistance in the maintainance of the National faith and credit, insisting that in the payment of the debt the spirit of the contract shall be truly and honorably observed.

The first of these two resolutions was warmly discussed, Edward G. Bradford, Howard M. Jenkins and others supporting it, and Hon. N. B. Smithers, Major Loft and others opposing it. The resolutions were finally adopted amid great enthusiasm by a vote of 75 to 37. The delegates have not been instructed in regard to a candidate for Vice President, but the opinion of the Convention is generally favorable to Wade.

LOUISIANA.

Masonic Demonstration—The Election—Constitution Ratified and Radical State Ticket Elected.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—A grand Masonic procession took place to-day, the occasion being the consecration of the Masonic Cemetery. All the Grand officers of the State were present.

Further returns increase the majority in the parishes for the Constitution. It will be some days before the result is officially promulgated. That the Constitution is ratified and the Radical State ticket elected is beyond doubt.

The Republican says the seat of Mann, Democratic member elect from the First District, will be contested by the defeated Republican candidate.

Frauds are charged on the Radicals, and a case is cited of one precinct in this city where over one thousand more votes were polled than registered. One of the registers reports officially to the Commanding General that one of the ballot-boxes bears marks of violence and showed conclusively that it had been tampered with.

NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—The Republican foots up the returns from thirty-four parishes, giving two thousand majority in favor of the ratification of the constitution. The remaining parishes will probably increase the figures. The Republicans claim twenty-four out of thirty-six Senators, and forty members of the House so far as heard from.

VIRGINIA.

Difficulty as to the Election—Radical Convention at Alexandria.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, April 24.—General Scofield issued an order this morning that Congress having made no appropriation to defray the expenses of the election in Virginia for the ratification or rejection of the Constitution, the election will not take place on the 2d of June, unless Congress should make an appropriation before that date. If the election does not take place on that day, Congress will substitute a later day, of which due notice will be given,

RICHMOND, VA., April 24.—Mrs. Bulsel and Mr. Mortimer Cox of this city, a ferryman and a negro, were drowned on Wednesday night while crossing the James river at Judes ferry.

A Republican meeting this afternoon, composed of 3,000 negroes, was addressed by Hunnicut.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., April 24.—The Radical County Convention met to-day, and after a stormy session nearly half the delegates withdrew. Those remaining nominated delegates to the State Convention, which meets in Richmond on the 6th of May, and instructed them to vote for Hawkhurst, and also renominated General Tucker for Congress. They nominated one white man and one negro for the Legislature.

Trial of the Clerkenwell Fenians in London—War Advices from Abyssinia—The Eastern Question—Attempted Assassination of Prince Alfred in Australia—Important from Japan.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, April 24.—The budget introduced in the House last evening by the Chancellor forms the chief topic of the editoriols this morning with the London press. The Times and most of the Liberal journals are dissatisfied with the estimates, and say the budget is indefinite and unsafe. The Times predicts that a supplementary estimate will be found necessary, to meet the deficiencies, and thinks the new burden ought to call on customs and not on incomes.

TRIAL OF CLERKENWELL FENIANS.

LONDON, April 24—Evening.—The trial of the Fenian prisoners accused of having caused the explosion in Clerkenwell, was resumed this morning. After the examination of a few more witnesses, whose testimony was merely corroborative of that already given, the case for the prosecution was rested. Mr. Williams, counsel for O'Keefe, moved for the entry of a nolle prosequi in the case of his client. Mr. Straight argued that none of the proof adduced by the prosecution connected his client, Timothy Desmond, with the Fenian plot. Messrs. Keogh and Green also spoke at length for their clients, English and Barret. Mr. Green was quite certain Barret was not implicated in the remotest degree in the Clerkenwell crime. He sifted the evidence against his client, showing a mass of contradictions. He would prove Barret was in Glasgow on the 13th of December, the day on which the explosion occurred. A shoemaker of that city, named McNaughty, had already sworn he saw him on the 11th, 12th and 13th, and heard him read an account of this very explosion in his shop. Other witnesses from Glasgow would swear to the same facts. On the conclusion of Mr. Green's remarks the court adjourned until to-morrow.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

LONDON, April 24—Midnight.—In the House of Commons this evening Lord Stanley, in reply to a question, admitted that the Emperor of Russia has made a secret proposal to the British Government with regard to the Cretan difficulty, but which, without the consent of the Czar, could not properly be made public. The plain solution of the reply, that proceedings looking to the independence of Crete, which the Sublime Porte will not concede without compulsion, is a policy which it is impossible for Great Britain to pursue.

RETURN OF PRINCE OF WALES.

DUBLIN, April 24.—The Prince of Wales embarked for England to-day. Before sailing he gave a dinner on the Royal Yacht. There were about forty guests present. The utmost good feeling and enthusiasm prevailed.

AUSTRALIA.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION OF PRINCE ALFRED.

LONDON, April 24.—Midnight.—Startling intelligence just received from Australia. Prince Alfred, who is visiting Sydney, was shot and dangerously wounded by an unknown person. The would-be assassin, who is said to be a Fenian, was promptly arrested. The Prince, according to last advices, was slowly recovering.

ABYSSINIA.

LONDON, April 23.—The dispatches from Abyssinia, dated April 2d say the army had made a further advance and the next day would move on the Bassilo river. The Abyssinian chief, Tanwoggerat, was in their rear. He had broken peace wilh the British and refuses transit through his territory for their supplies. General Napier intends to punish him on his return from Magdala. The news from other sources is not so late as General Napier's last dispatch.

JAPAN.

LONDON, April 24.—Later and important intelligence from Japan, via Shanghai, states that the Tycoon had retired from the Government. Mikado offers indemnity for the murder of French sailors at Osaca.

SPAIN.

DISORDER REPRESSED.

PARIS, April 24.—Dispatches received from various parts of Spain to-day report that disorders have been repressed.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, April 23.—It is rumored on the Bourse that France, Prussia and Austria have agreed to reduce their armies by granting furloughs.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

LONDON, April 24.—Evening—Illinois, 43¾; Erie, 46; Bonds, 70½; Consuls 93¼@93¾. Chinese tea season closed; entire exports for season, 110,000,000 pounds.

HAVRE, April 24. — Evening — Cotton strong; tres ordinaire 152 francs; do to arrive.

LIVERPOOL, April 24.—Evening—Cotton firm; sales—20,000 bales; prices unchanged. Manchester advices favorable. Lard firm. Sugar quiet. Others unchanged.

ANTWERP, April 24.—Evening—Petroleum dull; declining at 41¾.

CANADA.

Testimonial to Thomas D'Arcy McGee.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

OTTAWA, April 24.—The D'Arcy McGee Testimonial Committee have sent circulars to the Mayors of the several cities in the Dominion asking them to initiate the movement in aid of a fund to discharge the liabilities against the estate of the late D'Arcy McGee. The subscription list for the same purpose among the Senators and members was opened to-day.

The Nova Scotia members held a meeting to-day to consider means to be taken to have resolutions protesting against the confederation entered upon the Journal of the House of Commons. These resolutions will be milder in tone than those adopted by the Nova Scotia Legislature.

New York Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, April 24.—The Senate to-day passed the bill levying a tax of three-quarters of a mill per dollar on property in the State for canal purposes. The Assembly agreed to the abolition of the Contracting Board and the canal repair contract system.

Sanitary Regulations for Southern States—South Carolina Elections—Necessity for Appropriations for Indians—Revenue Cutters—Trial of Surratt—General Schofield Nominated for Secretary of War.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 24, 1868.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

General Order No. 11, issued by command of General Grant, instructs the commanding Generals of the Military Districts comprising the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas to cause, First, All vessels arriving at ports within their commands from ports infected with yellow fever, cholera, or other epidemic disease, but having had no case during their passage, to be quartered for fifteen days and thoroughly fumigated; Second, all such vessels which have had yellow fever, cholera or other epidemic diseases on board during passage and after arriving at quarantine, to be quartered for fifteen days after the termination of the last case, and thoroughly fumigated.

In carrying out this quarantine regulation, District Commanders are to consult and ask the assistance of officers of the Navy in their vicinity, and correspond direct with the Secretary of the Navy in reference to such assistance and co-operation.

SOUTH CAROLINA ELECTION.

The following was received at General Grant's headquarters:

CHARLESTON, April 23.—The total vote in South Carolina so far as reported is 85,843; majority for the Constitution, 23,164; three districts not heard from; six incomplete. Nothing from North Carolina.

NECESSITY FOR INDIAN APPROPRIATIONS.

Several communications were sent to the House of Representatives to-day from the Secretary of the Interior, enclosing official papers showing the immediate necessity for an appropriation to furnish supplies to destitute Indians at and near Fort Cobb in the Indian Territory, the Big Bend of Arkansas River, and North Platte, Nebraska, and in Kansas and Dacotah Territory.

REVENUE CUTTERS NEEDED.

The Secretary of the Treasury, in a communication to the House, says there is special need of four cutters for the marine cutter service, one at Alaska, one on the Columbia river and coast of Oregon, one for Charleston and one for Mobile, the aggregate cost of which is $350,000.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE PRESIDENT.

The President to-day withdrew the nomination of Thomas Ewing, Jr., as Secretary of War, by sending to the Senate the following communication:

"To the Senate of the United States: I have nominated John M. Schofield to be Secretary of the Department of War in place of Edwin M. Stanton, to be removed."

The President has also nominated Robert L. Farr to be Surveyor of Customs for Peoria, Illinois.

FEVER AND FAMINE IN AFRICA.

Our Consul at Port Mahon, under date of March 31st, reports information received there that typhus fever has been prevalent on the coast of Africa in addition to the famine.

APPOINTMENTS IN TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

It appears the number of applications to the Treasury Department for official positions from February 20th to April 20th was 1,166, and the appointments not over one hundred, of which fifty were in the Second Auditor's Office by special law, and the remainder to fill vacancies caused by resignations or removals.

SECOND TRIAL OF SURRATT.

The second trial of John H. Surratt is fixed for Tuesday, May 12th. It is understood Judge Black, Mr. Merrick and Mr. Bradley will appear for the defense.

BILL CONCURRED IN.

The Senate yesterday afternoon concurred in the House amendment to the bill providing for deficiencies, impeachment expenses of the Senate, &c.

REVENUE STAMPS, &C.

The Committee on the subject have reported against all kinds of new revenue stamps and mode of cancellation proposed to the Revenue Department.

CUSTOMS.

The receipts of customs from April 13th to the 18th, inclusive, were $3,141,738.

Homicide Trial at Albany, N. Y.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, April 24.—In the Hiscock murder trial to-day the testimony for the defense was continued. Several witnesses were examined. Their testimony referred chiefly to General Cole's military career and tended to show his body and mind wore both affected by an injury received in the war.

Fatal Affray at Chicago.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette]

CHICAGO, April 24.—Theodore Cameron, a gambler, and Joseph Bruce, a gas fitter from Philadelphia, became involved in an altercation to-night, which terminated in the shooting and killing of Bruce. Cameron surrendered himself to the authorities.

Tennessee Election Postponed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, April 24.—Gov. Brownlow, at the request of the candidates for Congress, has consented to postpone the election until November, and will issue a proclamation to that effect.

—Anna Campbell, one of the matrons of the Cumberland street, Brooklyn, Orphan Asylum, has been held to bail in one thousand dollars to answer a charge of inhumanity in maltreating one of the orphan boys by pouring muriatic acid on his person. She has implicated one Dr. Hyde and Miss Jane Davis, another matron, and warrants have been issued for their arrest.

—No change will be made in the place of holding the National Republican Convention in Chicago. The Committee, from shortness of time, is forced to decline the proposition of the citizens to erect a wigwam on the Lake shore. The Opera House will be fitted up to hold twenty-eight hundred exclusive of the Convention.

—Lieutenant William Porter, of the 5th Cavalry, formerly on General Rosseau's staff, accidentally wounded at Gallatin, Tennessee, on the 22d of February, had his leg amputated on Thursday, at Nashville, and died at seven P. M. yesterday, from the effects of the operation. He was from Oxford, Ohio.

—A collision occurred between the mail and a freight train yesterday, near Bethel, on the Vermont Central Railroad, killing Mr. Hazard, baggage master and injuring Mr. Webster, the engineer.

SOUTHERN STATE ELECTIONS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NORTH CAROLINA.

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 24.—Columbus county complete, gives 383 Conservative majority. Bladen and Robinson counties give small majorities for the Radicals. Richmond county is doubtful, with chances in favor of the Radicals.

The returns thus far received indicate the vote on the Constitution to be very close, and that the extreme western counties will decide the result.

NEWBERN, April 24.—Catawba county gives 1,200 Conservative majority; Iredelle, 850; Caldwell, 290; Stantry, 200, and Alexandria 300 majority. Burke and McDowell counties are Radical by a small majority. Dauphin gives 407 majority for the Conservatives. Brunswick will give a small Conservative majority, Halifax complete, gives 1,650 majority for the Radicals. Edge-Comb is reported about 1,300 Radical majority.

RALEIGH, April 24.—The following majorities are reported against the Constitution: Catawba, 280; Iredelle, 800; Orange, 600; Alamance, 300; Cleveland, 700; Cumberland, 200; Gaston, 200; Rowan, official, 700; Lincoln, 200; Davie, 250; Duplin, 400; Sampson, 600; New Hanover, Craven Edgecomb and Halifax are largely Radical, by decreased majorities. Carteral has gone Conservative; no figures received. Franklin doubtful. Chatham reported against the Constitution. Wayne 213 for the Constitution; official vote between 800 and 900, including Raleigh 804, official, for the Constitution.

NEWBERN, April 24.—The Republicans claim Craven county by 1,944 majority, and later by 300. It is rumored that Green gives 150 majority for the Republicans. Jones, official, 148 majority for the Republicans. Carter gives 26 majority against the Constitution.

GEORGIA.

AUGUSTA, GA., April 24.—The counting of the votes is progressing slowly and it will be several days before the result is officially known. It is believed the Radicals have carried this District, electing Paine to Congress, and giving a majority for the Constitution and Bullock. The Democrats claim five out of seven Congressmen elected, and a majority of the Legislature.

The Republicans are confident of the election of Mr. Bullock and the Democrats equally sure of the elections of Gordon, but all this is conjecture. The official count will show a close vote.

A negro was bayonetted by a soldier in a row yesterday. He was buried this afternoon and his body followed to the grave by a large procession of men and women. All is now quiet.

SAVANNAH, April 24.—The Board of Registration commenced counting votes at four o'clock this afternoon, having been delayed on the question of admitting challenges and on other points. The city vote, as counted to 7:30 P. M., gives 326 Conservative and 261 Radical. The large boxes are yet to be counted. The Conservatives claim a majority, and the general opinion is they are ahead in the city by a large majority.

Orders have been received by the Commander of this post from Gen. Meade to notify the Daily Advertiser to cease the publication of incendiary and inflammatory articles, or it will be suppressed.

MACON, April 24.—The vote is not yet counted. To-day was spent in assorting and comparing with the registers. Accounts from Southwestern Georgia are still more favorable to the Democrats. Nearly every town has gone against the Constitution, and elects a full Democratic ticket.

THE COURTS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

In the Bankruptcy branch, yesterday, W. E. Putnam, of the firm of William E. Putnam & Co., of Boston, filed a petition in bankruptcy against James P. Tanner, of this city, asking that he be declared a bankrupt. The creditors, in their petition, set forth that James P. Tanner is indebted to them in the sum of $4,018.38 for merchandize furnished. The petitioners allege that this claim is still unsatisfied; that with a view of delaying or defrauding his creditors, he has disposed of or conveyed to his son the wareroom on Wood street, together with goods to the value of fifteen thousand dollars, the said sale or conveyance taking place on or about the 9th of April; that the said debtor also executed a mortgage on certain real estate, and delivered it to Rody Patterson, his brother-in-law, in behalf of the latter and others, conditioned on the payment of $44,263.94. The petitioners further aver that the defendant was not indebted to all the parties in whose behalf the mortgage was executed, but that the investmeut was made in contemplation of bankruptcy, being insolvent at the time, with the intention of preferring the parties named therein over other creditors. Other allegations of the commission of acts of bankruptcy are also set forth in the petition, and the Court was asked to declare the debtor a bankrupt. A rule to show cause why the prayer of the petitioners should not be granted was allowed, and made returnable on the first day of May.

Petitions for final discharge were filed by William Schieve, of Crawford county; Horace Bunce, of Venango county, and L. W. Welsh and Patrick M'Govern, of Luzerne county.

Final discharges were granted and certificates awarded to C. Henry Prescott and Bernhard Lavendall, both of Venango county.

In the case of Blatchford & Newman, trustees, &c., vs. the Susquehanna Coal Company, motion for an interlocutory decree and injunction, Judge M'Candless decided as follows upon the points raised: "The motion of complainants for an interlocutory decree and injunction is granted to aid them in the exercise of the power to them reserved and secured by the mortgage upon which the bill is filed, to enter upon and take actual and entire possession of all and singular the property, hereditaments and premises mortgaged, and through the agency of such person or persons as may, under the direction of this Court, be appointed, from time to time, to collect and receive the produce and profits of said company's mines and property by said mortgage conveyed, until the same shall, by proper judicial proceedings, be sold, and until the further order of this Court." The complainants were required to give bonds in the sum of one hundred thousand dollars.

Judge McCandless made the following appointments of United States Commissioner's: George R. Snowden, Esq., of Franklin, Venango county, vice H. Brodhead, Esq., removed from this judicial district; Irwin Rutledge, Esq., of Johnstown, Cambria county; Samuel T. Brown, Esq., of Huntingdon, Huntingdon county; and James Buchanan, Esq., of Tidioute, Crawford county.

District Court—Judge Williams.

In the cases of James Gilliland and Robert McClintock vs. Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway Company, the jury returned a verdict Thursday of nine hundred dollars for plaintiffs in each case.

The next case taken up was that of Sarah and Margaret Silk vs. John Sheddon. This was an action to recover damages resulting from the obstruction of a path leading from the Noblestown road to plaintiffs' property. On trial.

Common Pleas—Judge Sterrett.

In the case of McKnight & Bros. vs. the Allegheny Fertilizer Co., previously reported, the jury found for plaintiffs in the sum of $546.91.

In the case of Day vs. Allison, the jury found for defendant.

The next case taken up was that of Myers vs. Myers, Hopper & Co. This was an action on a book account. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $12.49.

There will be jury trials next week.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THE HOUSEHOLD LAMP.

When the sun declines, and crickets sing,
And wandering mists from seaward roam,
When nights no heavenly beacons bring,
The brightest shines the star at home!

When the brown brooks with music low,
Watch summers die and autumns come,
When stately golden rods must bow,
What cheer is in that light at home!

When winter strips the shuddering trees,
And chills the wavelet's wanton foam:
When in the world's cold grasp we freeze,
How blest is then that star at home!

EPHEMERIS.

—Flesh is said to be very fashionable.

—Verdi has written twenty-five operas.

—Tilton and Forney have been honored with Ku-Klux letters.

—Wood and Barnum are getting up a new museum in New York.

—Brigham Young's daughters gave a leap-year ball recently.

—Thousands of women are employed on the Italian flower farms.

—The Ku Klux are now said to be the same as the Golden Circle.

—64,690 squirrels were shot at a recent squirrel hunt in Vermont.

—Brigham Young has no longer an interest in the Deseret News.

—Napoleon's valet, Leon, left a fortune of five hundred thousand francs.

—Le Follet says that short dresses are growing in favor, but not in length.

—Six hundred thousand kegs of lager beer were brewed in Milwaukee in 1867.

—A sixty acre field is the play ground for the base ball tournament at Niagara Falls.

—The new Roman Catholic Bishop of Buffalo, will arrive in that city next week.

—Ninety-four establishments have paid petroleum licenses this year in Philadelphia.

—$3,750 is the value set on wives run over by railway trains, by an English jury.

—A seal weighing one hundred pounds was captured in Massachusetts bay the other day.

—Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe has returned to the North from her home in Florida.

—It is thought that the Princess of Wales will have an attack of rheumatism in June next.

—More than half of the inhabitants of New York are native and to the manor born.

—Some of the deaf mutes of Cincinnati have organized a society for mutual improvement.

—Major John Pettis, United States Marshal of Vermont, died last week aged 75 years.

—An American lady appeared at a Paris masqued ball as The Map of America. She created a sensation.

—Lord Brougham is reported to have lost his memory. He can remember only fifty years back now.

—Fred. Douglass, it is reported, has made up his mind to settle down among the Yankees in Vineland, N. J.

—Philadelphia is lighted with 7,309 public lamps, which cost the city $48 per year each, or $374,832 in all.

—The new prince of the House of Hapsburg is to be born in Pesth, out of compliment to the Hungarians.

—A colossal bronze bust of the poet Bryant, done by Launt Thompson, is to be placed in the Central Park.

—Victor Emanuel has bought a pair of moose for the royal zoological gardens. He bought them in Nova Scotia.

—Burgled is a new word, supposed to be the past tense of the verb burgle, which is derived from the noun burglar.

—A farm of thirteen hundred acres, belonging once to the renowned Davy Crocket, is now for sale. It is in Texas.

—54,000,000 Bibles, in 174 different dialects have been distributed by the British and Foreign Bible Society since its foundation.

—A report is current that Florence Nightingale has become a member the society for the promotion of female suffrage in England.

—The Marsellaise is breaking out again all over France; it is a portentous song and its every fresh appearance is ominous of revolution.

—Marcus Doherty is the Irish Roman Catholic candidate for the seat of the late D'Arcy Magee in the Canadian Parliament.

—A Philadelphian wants the new society for the prevention of cruelty to animals to begin by arresting "the man who struck his light guitar."

—The winter in the western part of Massachusetts has been so long and severe that thousands of birds have been picked up dead from starvation

—The Hays City Advance says that buffalo are very plenty in the neighborhood of that place, and can be seen browsing on all of the surrounding hills.

—The Chicago Post says that gas is cheaper than daylight in the Keystone State. It is not quite as good, however, particularly this winter in Allegheny.

—Basil went to a masquerade last week, his wife asked him "Was the Russian Bear there, my dear?" "Oh no," said Basil, "he was quite warmly dressed"

—Some one has suggested that jealous wives are not consistent, because they do not object when husbands bring home pretty lawn dresses in their arms.

—A Southern mariner is said to have been so bitterly partizan as to refuse to be guided by the North Star, and the consequence was his vessel was shattered.

—It is said that the Appletons have presented the authoress of the Mühlbach novels with $1000 in gold. This authoress has written 41 books and is still writing.

—The Tycoon has decided not to abdicate. The Daimios are not as triumphant quite as they were reported, and the Mikado has not had his spiritual supremacy taken from him.

—It has been computed that there are more Wurtembergers in this country than there are in Wurtemberg, and twice as many Hessians as are in the defunct electorate of Hesse.

—One gaming establishment in Cheyenne City contains six billiard tables, sixteen faro and roulette tables, one keno kank, and a band of music and rents for $2,000 per month.

—The Mayor of Philadelphia has licensed one hundred and eleven places of amusement this year, including theatres, concert halls, lager beer saloons, with music and dance houses.

—Copperhead papers are down on stewed terrapin and old port, because they think that those delicacies are keeping Thad Stevens alive. They scout at Stevens but they run when he roars.

—It is stated that every one of the two hundred unmarried females who were some time ago shipped to the Pacific coast is now married and has a home. This shows what a little female enterprise may do.

—David Small has recently been elected Burgomaster of York, Pa. This small man is the same who walked seven miles one day to surrender that borough to Lee, during his invasion of this State in 1863.

—Mr. Seward is going on an extended foreign tour if the impeachment results in conviction. It has been suggested that he will endeavor to find out, if possible, where some of his recent purchases are located.

—Within the past twenty-five years there have been but nine months of April in which there were no snow storms, and yet everyone seems to look upon each recurring April snow as a not able phenomenon, —An old German who came to this country in his eightieth year, celebrated in St. Louis, on the 14th instant, his 100th birth day anniversary. How many cords of wood he can chop per day is not stated.

—General Rosseau, it is said, has arrived at Omaha, on his way from Oregon to swear at the Impeachment trial, but he comes too late. Like some things in the history of Miss Muller, he might have been but he wasn't.

—Charles Reade and Dion Boucicault are quarrelling over Foul Play. The latter wants to have it produced immediately as a drama, and the great author prefers to allow it to be finished before it be brought out on the stage.

—The crowd of visitors is much larger now at the White House than it has been for some time before. When Barnum announced in large letters, "last week of the what is it," people thronged to get a last look at the nondescript.

—A new mode of torture has been discovered in British India. A thin bag of live wasps is fastened to the bare stomach of the tortured, and then the insects are stirred up. It is said to be infinitely worse than being laid on a cotton carding machine, with some one dancing the can can on your back.

—Mr. Higginson writes in a London magazine upon American popular lecturers, and says of Gough, that he is a sort of evangelical comedian—the idol of many worthy people who never saw good acting on any other stage. He is a favorite with many others who can tolerate his contortions for the sake of his drollery.

—A very absurd report is prevalent about Mr. George Peabody giving the Pope $1,000,000. It is not likely that Mr. Peabody would give this much money to any one man even if he were a Roman Catholic, which he is not, and it certainly does not seem to be consistent with the practice of the Pope to accept anything as a gift from heretics.

—Erie is at last agitating the idea of making that delightful city into a place of summer resort. In all the country there is no place which has more attractions. It is now proposed to erect a new hotel and a row of bathing houses on the peninsula, and several elegant pleasure boats have been built. The hotels in Erie are already very fine and of large capacity.

—The House Committee on Commerce has agreed to recommend the appropriation of fifty thousand dollars for the improvement of the harbor at Erie. This is all very well as far as it goes, but it is a mere drop in the bucket. A sufficient appropriation well expended would make Erie (the only lake harbor of Pennsyvania,) the finest harbor on the great lakes.

—"Behind the Scenes,' the new sensation book is now said not to be written by Elizabeth Keely, the ex-servant of Mrs. Lincoln, but by a practiced author who took this contemptible way to pay off some grudges and prejudices which he had conceived. The book is disgraceful in the extreme, and no one who has a respect for decency or a belief in the sacredness of private life will encourage the author by either buying or reading it.

—The Pall Mall Gazette is pleased with Harvard students, and discourses on them by thus indulging in odious comparison: "They are extremely orderly and well behaved. Nothing surprises an English University man so, as to see young ladies tripping about alone in the neighborhood of the college, and to learn that several girls' schools have been established at Cambridge, on account of the University and the superior training which may be there obtained. We fear that young ladies brought under the influence of Oxford and Cambridge would learn many things which would not be to their worldly or spiritual advantage. But at Harvard the undergraduates, if not always as wise as serpents, are at all events as harmless as doves."

—Quite an excitement has been felt in various other cities, about the right of passengers to smoke on street cars. Some companies allow smoking on the front platform and many passengers object to this, as the fumes of tobacco float into the car. The use of tobacco has become so universal that it might perhaps be well for the directors of street railways to pay a little attention to the comfort of that portion of their constituency. In Germany the omnibuses are provided with a small coupé, slightly raised and between the driver and the larger portion of the conveyance, and here smokers are supreme. In double-ended street cars a similar arrangement is impracticable, but an apartment for smokers on top of each car could be easily contrived, and would at the same time give additional room for passengers. On long lines of street railways, where smokers could have time to enjoy a cigar, an arrangement of this kind would be delightful.

RIVER NEWS.

Both rivers continue to recede slowly with five feet eight inches in the Monongahela, and six feet six inches in the Allegheny. The weather was cloudy and cool, with occasional spells of sunshine.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Echo, Capt. Gordon, leaves for Oil City this evening at 4 p. m., and passengers and shippers will bear in mind that she leaves promptly on time.

The steamers Coal Hill and Arab, with twelve barges of coal in tow, were ready to leave for Cincinnati, but found the channel so much obstructed at White's Dam, twelve miles below the city, by sunken coal barges that they postponed their departure until there is more water. It is thought the obstructions will be removed in the course of a few days.

The Maggie Hays cleared for St. Louis about noon yesterday with a very good trip, having about all the freight she could take, and quite a number of passengers.

The Ingomar, from Wheeling, and Bayard, from Parkersburg, arrived and departed, and the Robt. Moore departed for Portsmouth.

The Glendale arrived from St. Louis about nine o'clock on Thursday night. She was delayed some time at Steubenville, where she put off about three hundred tons of iron ore.

Capt. Hare left the Glendale at Louisville on her reeent down trip, and took the cars for New Orleans. He remained there about eight days attending to private business, and then returned as he went, and caught his boat at Cincinnati on her way back to Pittsburgh.

The St. Charles departed for Cincinnati last evening, and the St. Marys was to have left Cincinnati on Thursday evening. The McCullough had a very good trip out from here on Thursday.

The Wild Duck and Barges arrived on Thursday night, and Capt. Anawalt has already commenced loading again for St. Louis.

The R. C. Gray was advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Friday, and the Armadillo left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

The Silver Lake from Pittsburgh to Fort Benton, passed Cincinnati on Wednesday. The Silver Cloud, from Dubuque to Pittsburgh, arrived at Cincinnati on Wednesday.

The towboat Lake Erie, with nine barges of coal in tow, passed Wheeling all right on Wednesday.

The Westmoreland, from New Orleans, arrived at Cincinnati on Wednesday.

The Selma, which boat, it will be remembered, was built here last summer by Captain Thomas Rogers, for the New Orleans and Alabama River trade, was to have been sold at Sheriff's sale at New Orleans on Thursday. We regret to learn that she has not been very successful in Southern waters, and a change of ownership was found necessary.

The Lorena is now in turn for St. Louis, and the Argosy is announced to leave for Cincinnati on Wednesday.

The Kenton, from St. Louis to Pittsburgh and the Leonidas, from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, were at Evansville on Wednesday.

The towboat Panther, from New Orleans to Pittsburgh, was at Cairo on Wednesday.

The river business must be improving. We noticed one of our captains sporting a very handsome new overcoat yesterday. We thought that the most of our steamboatmen were too hard up to indulge in new clothes. Perhaps he got it on tick.

The Glendale, Capt. Hare, will at once commence loading for St. Louis, as will also the Kate Robinson, Capt. Robt. Robinson, for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The Mary Davage, which boat left here on Thursday evening with her two barges for St. Louis, met with an accident a short distance below the city, which will detain her for a short time. In passing over White's Dam, she came in contact with a barge of railroad iron which sunk there the other day, smashing her wheel badly and breaking three of her flanges. It is fortunate that the accident was no worse, though it is bad enough. The Davage will have to be brought back for repairs.

Capt. Campbell reports that the barge of railroad iron has been raised and is out of the way, but there are several sunken coal barges still remaining.

Messrs. Ghriest & Haslett, agents for the St. Marys, will receive any freight that may offer to-day at the Parkersburg wharfboat.

A St. Louis paper of Wednesday, says: The opposition in the Keokuk trade took a new phase yesterday, the Jasper having been an offset to the Johnston's reduction in the rate of passage, secured the services of a "band of blowers," four males and two females, which, for some hours previous to the departure, delighted the crowd on the levee with some very sweet music. Promptly at the hour both boats shoved out and started swiftly on their voyage, the gay Harry, as usual, leading in gallant style, followed closely by the Jasper, with band playing and cannon firing. Quite a crowd of spectators assembled at the upper end of the wharf to witness the departure.

We clip the following from the St. Paul Press of the 18th: The steamer Ariel came down from the Minnesota river Friday morning, bringing 1000 sacks of wheat. She made three trips between New Ulm and Mankato, bringing down wheat in sacks and at Mankato empty them in bulk barges. The Mankato also arrived, bringing two bulk barges, with an immense cargo of wheat and a large amount of miscellaneous freight. The officers of boats that come from the Minnesota report six feet of water more than low water stage. This makes it in excellent boating condition. Other boats are expected from the Minnesota soon with heavy cargoes of wheat.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.
J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,
Car Heater and Moderator,
For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.
Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in its position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

THE RESULTS of the elections in Georgia and North Carolina are still in doubt, at this writing. The defeat of the Constitution in the former State is claimed by the Democrats, who boast, nevertheless, that they have elected a Governor under its provisions. We must wait a few days to know the truth. The Associated Press reports from the South are remarkably uniform in their rebel leanings, suppressing as far as practicable any news which could gratify Republicans. The majorities of 10,000 to 20,000 in Louisiana and of 43,000 in South Carolina place Reconstruction in these States out of danger.

THE REPORT that Messrs. Groesbeck, Evarts and Stanbery are yet to make speeches in defense of their client, and that Messrs Williams, Stevens and Bingham are severally to be heard for the managers of impeachment, is very likely to be correct. Of course this will delay the final submission of the case to the latter part of the coming week. If the Senate concurs in the proposition for an official report of its secret discussions, the delay in the vote will be still longer protracted. Very few of the Senators will be able to resist the temptation to spread their individual views upon a record of such general interest, and we may look for at least three days to elapse before the first decisive vote is taken. We have anticipated this vote as early as May Day, but the country will be fortunate if it be reached even in the very last hours of the week.

Washington advices sustain our estimate that thirty-nine Senators will vote for Mr. Johnson's conviction. The proposition that the discussions be taken down by the official reporters, is very significant of the opinions of Senators, who would not court such publicity in the interest of the accused.

FRIENDS of the President, who have filled the Democratic newspapers of late with confident predictions that impeachment will fail of a constitutional majority of the Senate, may succeed in deceiving the credulous for a few days longer. But the course which events will take is plainly enough foreseen by Mr. Johnson himself, and by all the leading Democratic politicians. It is understood that he is already engaged in his personal preparations for leaving the White House; that the members of his Cabinet are occupied in the same way; that all efforts to anticipate the order of the public business in the Executive departments, or even to dispose of such matters arising in its ordinary course as can be left over without serious inconvenience, have been recently discontinued, and that the speedy close of the present administration is regarded by all concerned, whether superior or subordinate, as a certainty with the close of the present month. It has even been proposed, among the opponents of the Republican party, to urge Jefferson Davis to leave the country before the new administration goes into power, the apprehension being that he will be hung, if he comes fairly within the Republican clutch. Could we have stronger indirect evidence of the Democratic belief in the inevitable results of the impeachment?

IF THE latest advices from Japan are to be credited, the government of that empire has been radically revolutionized. The original and supreme authority of the Mikado—which was in theory not only spiritual but temporal, but which, in fact, has been, beyond the memory of foreigners, a mere shadow under the usurpations of the greatest of the semi-independent princes holding the power successively as Taicoons—has been at last re-established, by the complete defeat of the present claimant of the latter title and his retirement from any further contest. The war has been brief but sanguinary, and in its course, the treaty privileges of foreigners have been frequently infringed upon. The Mikado, assuming now the undivided authority, promises that these wrongs shall be atoned for, and there is good reason for confiding in the sincerity of his pledge. The restoration in this mysterious empire of a responsible government, with a single head, will be a long step forward to the establishment of those permanently amicable relations with the Christian world which, of late years, it has been clearly the Japanese policy to cultivate. To no foreign nation has this fact more important significance than to our own which, upon its Pacific front, is established as their nearest neighbor and with regular steam communication.

LUNATIC HOSPITALS.

In few particulars does the civilization of the present age stand in stronger or more favorable contrast to that of ancient times than in the treatment of the insane. The great nations of antiquity made small account of what are now known as the humanities. Citizens thereof made famous reputations by acts now esteemed of ordinary decency and morality. Individuals and nations were hard, exacting, imperious, unfeeling, blood-thirsty. The animal in their nature was not even measurably tamed. Wild beasts not unfrequently fall upon such of their kind as suffer physical misfortunes, and either drown or drive them into solitude. In like manner, men and women smitten with insanity were anciently driven from among their fellows, into desert places, as frowned upon by the Almighty and possessed of unclean spirits. Afterwards, as the notion of demoniacal possession disappeared, the insane, instead of being driven into wildernesses, were shut up, manacled, starved, scourged, and subjected to the most revolting barbarities. At length civilization rose so high, in advanced and exceptional individuals, that a wiser and better system was conceived and introduced. By these, insanity was pronounced a mental disease, and treated accordingly. Now, commonwealths build palaces for the custody and treatment of those whose minds are disordered. Communities have risen to the plane occupied only by the foremost among them a half or quarter of a century ago. How vast the change! Formerly forts, castles, dungeons, amphitheatres, highways and acqueducts; these, and such as these, only. Now, they erect and sustain schools for the ignorant, hospitals for the sick, homes for the destitute, and asylums for the deaf and dumb, the blind and the insane. Civilization never attained this altitude before.

In Pennsylvania two Asylums for the Insane, mainly endowed from the public treasury, have existed for a series of years. In them about six hundred patients are steadily under treatment. It is not pretended that this department of medical science has attained unto perfection. Such a condition can rationally be affirmed of no science, or of any department thereof. Whatever may be said of the comparative certainty or positivity of surgery, as much cannot with truthfulness be said of medicine; much less of that department of it which undertakes "to minister to a mind diseased." Mental philosophy is confessedly the most intricate and perplexing of all studies. This was why Coleridge affirmed that "metaphysics is the science the evil spirits in hell delight to discuss." Its subtleties and intervolutions, he assumed, sharpened their wits, afforded the wildest play to their faculties, and left them after all in teasing uncertainty. But the medication of insanity involves more. It necessarily takes cognizance of that intricate point at which the intellectual and physical—the spiritual and the material—touch and blend, so that it is the most difficult of all problems to tell where the one ends and the other begins. Nevertheless, the modern treatment of the insane has reached such a pitch of excellence that vast advantages steadily result therefrom. Ameliorations are not only numerous, but a very large proportion of all the patients who are brought promptly under treatment upon the first manifestation of the malady are restored to the normal use of their faculties. Nor has an end been reached in the line of improvements.

But these two establishments have been found inadequate to the proper detention and treatment of that portion of the insane for whose welfare the Commonwealth, according to the prevailing conception of its duty, ought to make provision. Not that insanity has increased in larger ratio than the population; but that numerous classes of insane persons who were formerly uncared for, and either allowed to roam at pleasure or else were confined in out-buildings, are now brought under beneficent supervision and treatment. Nor is this all. A better understanding of mental diseases has revealed the fact that many intellectual conditions, once rated as annoying idiosyncrasies, or something of that sort, essentially abnormal and unhealthy, and are amenable to remedial instrumentalities.

In consequence, a bill was brought before the late Legislature to provide for the erection of a new asylum, especially intended to accommodate a score of the northern and north-eastern counties. It was felt that the location of this additional house ought not to be determined with a view to aggrandizing this or that borough, but so as to be reached most speedily and cheaply by patients from the respective counties directly to be benefited; and therefore commissioners were named in the bill, who represented the best medical ideas bearing on the subject, and altogether disinterested in other particulars. In this form the bill was passed into a law; the location will be fixed, and the house will be erected as the State shall furnish the indispensable money.

But, the bill did not go through without serious opposition. Some of the members were resolved to strangle it, if they could. They did not hesitate to avow the belief that the insane were better off with no treatment, than with such care as the best medical knowledge of the age can furnish. In fact, they seemed to halt between two opinions; the first regarding Lunatic Asylums as a sort of inquisitional lock-up, where unfortunate men and women were imprisoned and plagued to gratify mischievous curiosity or mistaken benevolence; the second, regarding such establishments as palaces where a species of professional dilettanteism, luxuriously pampered at public cost, displayed a frivolous or mischievous activity. Rather than this, they did not hesitate to avow that it was better to turn the inmates of all Asylums into the highways, or drive them out to consort with wild beasts.

When the high civilization of the present age, in this country, is spoken of, it will not do to infer that all the population share in that advancement. But from our population can be picked specimens of all the civilizations that are or have been. The more numerous specimens are not of the higher types, but of the lower; men and women who contrive to live, holding on to all the ignorance, passion, prejudice, and stupidity of the darkest ages, and yet fancying they are bright ensamples of the best full-orbed mental enlightenment and moral cultivation can produce. It will not do to judge the age by these. No age has been known but would be utterly discredited by such a test. To illustrate—when the Elizabethian age in England is spoken of, the design is to magnify, not the mass of the people, but the comparatively few choice spirits who made the age illustrious. The bulk of the population were of another sort, who would have found a congenial social and civic atmosphere a thousand years before.

Those members of the Legislature who could find no good, but only harm, in Lunatic Asylums, may properly be regarded as specimens from remote antiquity, who have come down to these times to retard as far as possible the progress of society.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

An article entitled, "The Morality of Hop-raising," in the Advance, (a Congregational paper) of Chicago, presents the obligations of professing Christians in rather a new light, and will be unsavory to those Christians who believe in making money at the expense of correct morals. Hops being moderately narcotic, they have a tendency to quiet the nerves and induce sleep. This Element enters into beer manufactured from hops, and produces more or less effect on the nervous system, and classes with tobacco and opium. Hops are not used for food, clothing and fuel. They are not needed for the support, comfort and elevation of human life. Their culture not only works against the interests of the beer drinking poor, but the temperate and industrious poor. Every acre put to hop raising enhances the prices of products by preventing the raising of grain or corn and other useful articles. Hops are needed for yeast, but very little yeast is needed. Many Christians and temperance men have been induced to raise them because it is said they are good for tanning, but this is denied, as tanners cannot afford to pay over six to eight cents per pound for such purposes, and they are not used. The assertion is a mere trick of the trade to induce good men to raise them. Their commercial value and profit arise solely from their use in the manufacture of beer, and beer drinking being on the increase in the United States, their value is enhanced accordingly. Hop raising for commercial purposes is a labor promotive of intemperance. The duty of Christians and temperance men is plain not to raise them, as there is a responsibility involved that will work to their spiritual detriment. Some persons attempt to justify hop raising, by classing hops with corn. Corn is made into whisky—hops into beer. But corn constitutes food, and is mainly cultivated and used for it. Probably nineteen-twentieths is thus consumed by man or beast. But hops do not constitute food, and every "hop-raiser must know that nineteen-twentieths of his hops go to swell the tide of drunkenness." The great pecuniary profit, is the source of temptation to raise hops. and professing Christians and temperance men are induced to hush the throbbings of conscience, by imaginary arguments, without any real foundation for them.

Quite a number of distinguished ministers and educators have been removed by death within a short time past. Rev. Dr. Baughman, for forty years connected with the Pennsylvania Lutheran College, at Gettysburg, has been suddenly cut off. For eighteen years he was its President, filling the position with signal ability. Nearly about the same time, Rev. Dr. Johnson, President of Dickinson College, under the care of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died after a brief illness. Scarcely more than a month ago we sat near him in Exeter street Church, Baltimore, during the session of the East Baltimore Conference, while he was arranging work connected with the College, for the ensuing summer. Little did we think he would be called away suddenly and so soon. Intelligence has just reached us of the death of Bishop Hawks, of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Missouri. For twenty years he has filled the office of Bishop, during which time the Episcopal Church in Missouri grew to large proportions in numbers and wealth. He was very popular and fraternal with the clergy of St. Louis, of every name. It is not a great while since Dr. Maclean, President of Princeton College, passed away from earth to the better land. His loss was keenly felt.

Five years ago the Lutheran Synod of Minnesota was composed of two English and two German ministers. It has now twenty-two ordained ministers and about fifty congregations.

Rev. Dr. Henry Kendal, formerly pastor of Third Presbyterian Church in this city, now Secretary of Home Missions of the New School body, sailed for Europe on the 11th, to have rest from the ardent labors in which he has been engaged.

The discourse of Rev. Joseph H. Pressly, of Erie, Pa., to the Alumni of the United Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Allegheny, Pa., Wednesday of last week, is represented by the Banner as an able one, but its purport, as was evident from its conclusion, may be comprehensively stated "as a plea for the divisions existing in the Church, and a protest against present efforts at re-union."

There are fifty Methodist Churches in Philadelphia, valued at over a million of dollars, and with sixteen thousand of a membership.

The pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, at New Albany, Indiana, administhe ordinance of baptism by immersion. We believe this is unusual.

At the recent session of the Allegheny United Presbyterian Presbytery, Rev. J. R. Kerr, of Allegheny City, preached a sermon on oath-bound societies, founded on First Thessalonians, fifth chapter and twenty-second verse. Dr. J. B. Clark reported that he had organised, in February last, the congregation of Etna, consisting of forty-four members.

Some one has taken the trouble to look through the list of the Episcopal Churches in this country, and reports that there are 287 St. John's churches and 270 St. Paul's; while St. Cyprian, St. Augustine, St. Ambrose, St. Polycarp, St. Cornelius, St. Thaddeus, St. Columba, St. Margaret, St. Wilfred, St. Sylvanus and St. Chrysostom have one church each.

The time is near at hand for the usual May anniversaries at New York. We find announced that the anniversary of the American Bible Society will take place on Thursday, the 14th, the business meeting at the Bible House at 9 A. M., and the public meeting at Steinway Hall at 10 o'clock. The American and Foreign Christian Union will hold its anniversary the same evening at Steinway Hall. Dr. Joseph Duryea, Dr. Lachlin Taylor, of Canada, and Rev. Mr. Pilatte, of France, will address the meeting. Dr. J. P. Thompson will preach the annual sermon before the American Home Missionary Society on Sunday evening, the 10th. The Protestant Episcopal Children's Missionary Society will convene at Steinway Hall, Saturday, 30th, Drs. Tyng and Newton, and other clergymen, will speak. The American Tract Society meets on Wednesday, 13th, at Dr. Hall's church. Dr. Hall, Dr. Jessup, of Syria, and other speakers are engaged. The annual reunion of the American Congregational Union will occur at the Academy of Music in Brooklyn. Senator Wilson will preside. A number of addresses will be delivered—Dr. John Hall, Rev. S. H. Tyng, Jr., and others. Dodsworth's Band will discourse sweet music.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Dr. Spear's settlement over the South Presbyterian Church, in Brooklyn, will be observed with appropriate services to-morrow. The church then consisted of but seventy-two members. The additions since that time have been about sixteen hundred; the present membership is about seven hundred.

According to reports of exchanges received by the Independent, there have been eight thousand accessions during last week. Of these thirty-seven hundred are among the Methodists, thirteen hundred among the Baptists, and twelve hundred among the two branches of Presbyterians.

During Lent an Episcopal Lenten service was held daily at Library Hall, Chicago, at quarter before one o'clock.

The Seventh Day Baptist Missionary Society supports sixteen missionaries in the home field, and has a single mission church in China of twenty members, with a native pastor.

Among the translations of the Luthern Observer from its German exchanges we learn the Episcopalians after various efforts, have at last established (place not mentioned) an Institution for training German Ministers, whose mission will be to organise and supply Episcopal congregations among the Germans.

The Easter anniversary of the Sunday School of St. James Church, corner of Penn and Mechanic streets, will be held Sunday afternoon (to-morrow) at 3½ o'clock, when the children and congregation will be addressed by Rev. Mr. Allen of Christ Church, Allegheny City, Rev. Mr. Wilson of Calvary Church, East Liberty, and Mr. F. R. Brunot. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Rev. Elbert S. Porter, D. D., who has had editorial charge of the Christian Intelligencer for the past sixteen years, in compliance with the earnest wishes of his congregation in Brooklyn, has returned from the editorial chair, to devote himself wholly to the pastoral charge. Dr. Porter proved himself to be one of the most accomplished, graceful and vigorous writers connected with the religious press. Under his administration, the paper has attained a high and honorable position. We welcome Rev. Mr. Atwater, formerly associated with him as office editor, to the place so well filled by Dr. Porter. Mr. Van Wyck, the capable publisher, announces that the paper will be conducted upon the same principles and policy as heretofore.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The New York Evening Post says: The capitalists of Pittsburgh are beginning to take a lively interest in a new railroad projected to connect that city with Newbern, N. C. The route of this road is described asalong the Monongahela river to its source in West Virginia, a distance of one hundred and fifty miles; thence across a table land of five miles to the head waters of the Elk river, and then to a gap in the Greenbrier Mountain, ten miles beyond. From this point it strikes to Greenbrier river, and follaws it to its junction with New river, fifty miles further. Thence the line proceeds southeast to Newbern, on the Virginia and Tennessee railroad.

This road would not only greatly benefit Pittsburgh, but would open up a valuable and important section of country, to meet the requirements of which the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is inadequate. Passing through a rich mineral region, it would be of invaluable assistance in supplying the Pittsburgh forges and furnaces with a superior quality of ore, developing at the same time a section of country whose agricultural resources are necessarily great. If the people of Pittsburgh are able to build this road, it would greatly conduce to the interests and add largely to the importance of that flourishing city. The desirability of opening direct communication with the southern Atlantic ports is recognized in all of the principal cities of the Ohio Valley, and the benefit that would arise from traveling southward instead of northward to the seaports during the winter months is fully appreciated. Pittsburgh is certainly wealthy enough to construct such a road, particularly as it would soon become the principal channel through which her extensive iron works would receive their supplies.

The same journal says: Among other sequences of the passage of the Erie bill is the prompt finishing of the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad, now destined to become virtually a branch of the Erie Railway leading from Binghamton to Albany. It is also contemplated to lay steel rails and a double track on the Delaware division of the Erie road. The bill just passed requires the money received from the recent issues of bonds to be expended on the road; abolishes the Receivership, and will probably terminate the pending litigation.

The Philadelphia Press says: Bedford is moving strenuously to lay the twenty-two miles of railway that are needed to connect it with the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, at Bridgeport, and many are the expedients proposed whereby to obtain the money to do so. The question with Bedford now is, Can it be done without outside help?

The Lancaster and Delaware Railroad bill having been passed by the Legislature, the citizens of the Old Guard county are also busy devising ways and means to avail themselves of the franchises conferred by this last charter. The ultimate connections of this proposed road are extensive. From Lancaster, via Hinkletown and Morgantown, it can connect with the Wilmington and Reading Railroad at or near Springfield; and thence via French Creek to Phœnixville, there to connect with the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad; and thence proceed on, via the Perkiomen and its east branch, to the Delaware river at or near Point Pleasant. From the Schuylkill, at the mouth of French Creek, to the Susquehanna, at the mouth of Swatara, there is a fair ground for a cheap freight line. While speaking of the railroad interests of this section of the State, we observe that Hon. Henry L. Cake has introduced into the House of Representatives at Washington a bill "authorizing the construction of a new railroad from Washington to the Schuylkill river, Schuylkill county, in this State. It is provided that the road shall run from Washington to the Northern Central Railroad, and thence by way of Marietta, in Lancaster county, to Lebanon and Pine Grove, and thence to a point on the Schuylkill river, in Schuylkill county. The title of the company is 'The Washington and Pennsylvania Railroad Company.'"

The route, as above designated, needs but a very little piecing to make it out at once, a link from Manheim to Pine Grove being nearly all, and that is already assured under a Pennsylvania charter.

Forty-five miles of steel rails are laid on the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad, connecting with the North Pennsylvania at Bethlehem. There was not a broken rail caused by the trains between Mauch Chunk and Easton during the winter. One hundred and forty four-wheeled coal cars, carrying 770 tons of coal, have been hauled over eighty-five miles of the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad by a single engine.

The Action of the Senate.

The Senate, after the close of the arguments, will go into secret session for consultation. A proposition will be offered by Judge Edmunds to admit the official reporters, so that the speeches of Senators may be taken down and printed with the report of the trial, and half a dozen members are already known to be in favor of such procedure, while several will oppose it strongly.

The vote on the separate articles of impeachment will be taken in open Senate on Wednesday or Thursday, probably, of next week. When the question arises of pronouncing judgments, in case one or more articles is sustained, the Managers will make the usual demand, and the Senate may possibly then retire again for consultation. At this point an interesting law question is likely to be raised. The Constitution says a two-thirds vote shall be necessary to conviction. but is silent as to the vote on the judgment, and the question is whether the majority or two-thirds must agree to the sentence. Some of the lawyers in the Senate are looking up authorities on this head. The majority are doubtless in favor of disqualifying Mr. Johnson from ever holding office again in case he is convicted, but it is not certain that two-thirds would agree to this sentence. When judgment has been determined it will be pronounced by the Chief Justice. It is not necessary that the President should be present when this is done. Here the functions of the Court will cease, and the Chief Justice will not appear in any further proceedings.—Wash. Letter.

BEWARE

Of that remorseless and insidious destroyer of the human race,

CONSUMPTION.

Check and conquer its advances, lest you fall the victim. When attacked with any of its preliminary symptoms, no matter how slight, be on your guard and promptly use the remedy ere too late.

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Is an old, well tried, certain and standard remedy for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Difficulty of Breathing, Pain or Oppression in the Chest or Lungs, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs. Its sure and certain efficacy has been fully tested and endorsed for many years by numbers of well-known citizens in our midst, and their certificates are on record. Have you a cough which has gradually increased from a slight one to one of permanent standing? Lose no time, but procure a bottle of DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP, which will surely relieve you of the dangerous premonitory symptoms and effect a permanent cure. Do you spend miserable days and long sleepless nights of torture and pain from attacks of Asthma or Difficulty of Breathing? Dr. SARGENT'S Cough Syrup will act promptly, relieve you, and gradually restore you to your freedom of pain, and sound, pleasant sleep. Are your lungs sore and irritated, indicating inflammation? This is one of the most dangerous symptoms, and should be promptly removed. Dr. SARGENT'S Cough Syrup will heal the soreness, allay the inflammation, and restore the lungs to their prestine health and vigor. This Cough Syrup is pleasant and agreeable to take, while powerful and sure in its action. For sale by all Druggists in the country.

LET NOT YOUR PREJUDICE USURP YOUR REASON.

It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called patent medicines; but why should this prevent you resorting to an article that has such an array of testimony to support it as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS? Physicians prescribe it; why should you discard it? Judges, usually considered men of talent, have used and do use it in their families: why should you reject it? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason to the everlasting injury of your health. If you are sick, and require a medicine, try these Bitters.

When the bodily energies are worn out by anxiety and need a stimulant, this is the best that can be taken. It is tempered and modified by hygienic herbs and roots, which prevent it from fevering the blood, and hence it does not produce a mere temporary excitement, to be followed by injurious reaction, but communicates a permanent potency to the entire vital organization. Some of its herbal constituents are slightly soporific, so that in cases where sleeplessness is one of the accompaniments of nervous disease, a dose of it taken towards bedtime will tend to produce quiet and refreshing slumber. For palpitation of heart, tremors, hysterics, fainting fits, general restlessness and the causeless fears and distressing fancies to which ladies are especially subject, under certain morbid conditions of mind and body peculiar to their sex, the Bitters will be found the most agreeable and certain of all counter-irritants.

The constitutionally nervous may readily keep their infirmity in constant check by the daily use of this healthful vegetable tonic; and those who have "shattered their nerves," as the phrase is, either by imprudent indulgence or undue physical or intellectual labor, will find in this vitalizing elixir a prompt restorative.

ANOTHER CURE OF DEAFNESS.

I lost my hearing during the last year. Part of the time I was totally deaf. In April of this year I was induced, from an advertisement, to make application to DR. KEYSER, 120 Penn street, Pittsburgh. After having tried various medicines from doctors, without any benefit, I have been under Dr. Keyser's treatment now for nearly two months, and am entirely restored to my hearing, so that I can hear a pin drop. JOHN SCANLAN,
Coal Bluffs, Washington Co., Pa.

ANOTHER CURE.

A man called to-day at Dr. Keyser's office to inform him of a great cure made by his LUNG CURE, or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE. Hist these cures are made with the Doctor's preparations, he desires it to be distinctly understood that most of his great cures are made in accordance with the established laws that govern the science of medicine, in which he has been engaged for the past twenty-five years. Last week he was also in receipt of a letter from a clergyman in the State of Ohio, detailing another most wonderful cure.

JONAS WHITCOMB'S

REMEDY,

For Asthma, Rose Cold, Hay Fever, Etc.

Prepared from a German recipe obtained by the late JONAS WHITCOMB in Europe. It is well known to have alleviated this disorder in his case, when all other appliances of medical skill had been abandoned by him in despair. In no case of purely asthmatic character has it failed to give immediate relief, and it has effected many permanent cures. It contains no poisonous or injurious properties whatever; an infant may take it with perfect safety.

SENECA RIVER, October 28, 1868.

Gentlemen: I have sold a considerable quantity of JONAS WHITCOMB'S REMEDY FOR ASTHMA, in this city, and to customers from the country towns, and while I often receive information of its complete success in relieving and curing the worst forms of that disease, I have not yet heard of the first case in which it has failed. I say this for the benefit of those who are afflicted, and who have not tested the power of this "Remedy."

Truly yours,
SAMUEL A. SMITH, Apothecary.

Messrs. BURNETT & CO.

WARDSBORO, Vt., May 12, 1857.

MR. BURNETT: I take pleasure in stating the wonderful effects of "WHITCOMB'S REMEDY FOR THE ASTHMA" on my wife. She had suffered for years more than my pen can describe, with the spasmodic form of that terrible disease. As often as ten or twelve times a year she was brought to the very gates of death, requiring two or three watchers sometimes for several days and nights in succession. At times, for hours, it would seem as if every breath must be the last. We were obliged to open the doors and windows in mid-winter, and to resort to every expedient that affection could devise to keep her alive. At one time she was so far gone that her physician could not count her pulse. At length I heard of "WHITCOMB'S REMEDY." It acted like a charm. It enabled her to sleep quietly in a minutes. I am a Methodist Clergyman, stationed. I shall be happy to answer any inquiries respecting her case, and you are at liberty to make any use of the foregoing facts that will benefit the afflicted.

Yours truly, KIMBALL HADLEY.

SAUGUS, April 16, 1868.

MESSRS. JOSEPH BURNETT & CO.—Gentlemen: I have tried everything that has been recommended to me for the Asthma, with no success, until I met with a bottle of "JONAS WHITCOMB'S REMEDY FOR THE ASTHMA." The first dose relieved me within fifteen minutes, and I have never known it to fail relieving me. Have had to sit up seventeen nights in succession, and now am always able to sleep after taking it. I feel that my comfort depends upon it. Yours truly,

JOHN SHAW.

ASTHMA CURED.

EDDYTOWN, Yates Co., N. Y., May 15, 1860.

EDITORS RURAL NEW YORKER: Seeing an inquiry in the Rural for a cure for that distressing disease, the Asthma, I write to let the inquirer know what has almost cured me. I have had the spasmodic asthma fifteen years, and never found any medicine that would prevent an attack when it was coming on until I commenced taking "JONAS WHITCOMB'S REMEDY FOR ASTHMA." I commenced taking this remedy eighteen months ago, and have not had a severe paroxysm since. "WHITCOMB'S REMEDY" has done for me all that it is recommended to do. SARAH SEELY.

EX-President MARTIN VAN BUREN'S sufferings in his last illness were greatly alleviated by the use of "JONAS WHITCOMB'S ASTHMA REMEDY," as proved in letters in our possession from his physician, and from Mr. Van Buren himself, expressing much gratification with the results of its use.

Extract from the Life of Washington Irving, by his Nephew, Pierre M. Irving, vol. IV., page 272:

"The doctor prescribed, as an experiment—what had been suggested by Doctor (O. W.) Holmes, on his late visit—"Jonas Whitcomb's Remedy for Asthma," a teaspoonfull in a wine glass of water, to be taken every four hours. A good night was the result."

BURNETT'S COCOAINE,

A Compound of Cocoa-Nut Oil, &c.,

FOR THE HAIR,

Has established a world-wide reputation entirely upon its merits. Its natural adaptation, agreeableness, and freeness from all injurious or soiling properties, together with its cheapness in respect to durability and size of bottle, render it unequalled by any other preparation in the world. No other oils, neither pomades or alcoholic washes—foreign or domestic—can compare with it as a

HAIR DRESSING.

It anchors the hair firmly in the scalp—gives it new life and lustre—and renders it the "crowning glory" of both sexes, old and young. The greatest efficacy of Cocoaine is best secured, by a perfect cleansing, before its application, of the hair and scalp, for which purpose

BURNETT'S KALLISTON

Is recommended, because its ingredients are co-operative with those in the Cocoaine.

IRON CURB AND SIDEWALK.

We desire to call the attention of parties about to widen their sidewalks, according to ordinance, to our Patent Iron Curb and Pavement. The same will be laid in front of the Opera House this week and will speak for itself. The following is an extract from a letter of the City Engineer and Regulator: "I consider it superior to stone, and if laid in Fifth street, will add greatly to its beauty, and I would recommend it to property owners.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.

Property near Mansfield for Sale.

A very desirable piece of land of 16 acres, having an orchard of about 3 acres, and a good frame house of 5 rooms and cellar; a spring of never failing water near the house. Located on an elevation about ¾ of a mile west of Mansfield Station, on the Panhandle R. R. To be sold as a whole or in lots, to suit purchasers, from 2 to 5 acres.
ALSO,
A good frame dwelling of five rooms, large hall, finished attic and good cellar, with lot 24 by 129 feet 9 inches, situate No. 60 Adams street, Sixth ward, Allegheny City, which will be sold low and on good terms, as the owner wishes to leave the city.
ALSO,
BUILDING LOTS FOR SALE.—Two good lots on Franklin street; three small lots on Chartiers street, Allegheny. A number of lots on Jacks Run.
ALSO,
A good Farm of 70 Acres, 60 of which are cultivated, and balance in timber, having 10 acres of orchard, consisting of apples, peaches and pears; a good log house of 6 rooms and cellar; a good log barn. Farm well watered, having a good spring near the door; 50 acres underlaid with coal. Situate 12 miles northwest of Allegheny City, and 4 miles from Sewickley or Glendale Station, on the P. F. W. & C. R. R. Terms easy.

FOR SALE.

A RIVER BOTTOM FARM OF 76 ACRES, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from this city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.
Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 120 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.
Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.
Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagon-shed and other outbuildings. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on good terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of

G. H. TOWER, 164 Fourth Street.
ap24:o62

DESIRABLE PENN STREET RESIDENCE FOR SALE.—Three-story brick house, well built and conveniently arranged; wide hall, large parlor, dining-room and kitchen, cellar, wash room, etc.; seven other rooms, bath room; gas fixtures in all the rooms; yard, grape arbor, &c. Lot extends back to an alley; brick stable on the alley; all in complete order. Apply to

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 24, 1868.

Gold suffered a heavy decline to-day, opening at 139⅞, declining to 139¾, advancing to 139⅞, but suddenly beoame weak and closed at 139¾ to 139¼. A large amount of the outstanding short contracts were covered within the last two days, and there being nothing to sustain the market, it gradually declined with a downward tendency. There is, however, a large amount of gold needed during the early part of May, which may prevent any material decline below the rates ranging during the last fortnight.

Government bonds were well sustained to-day, even at the decline in gold, and 1867's advanced ¼ per cent.; the 5-20s of 1862 and 1865 are less firm and slightly off from the highest quotation. For the present, there is no demand for securities, and rather a disposition to sell. Stocks are lower except Fort Wayne, Express stocks are lower; also, Telegraph and some of the Western Railroad shares.

Money is easier, the demand being less pressing, and all good paper will be discounted at liberal rates. Our home securities are also improving with the increase of loanable funds.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 139¼; 1881 bonds, 113; 1862 5-20s, 111⅞; 1864 do, 110; 1865 do, 110¼; Consols, 108⅛; 10-40s, 102⅜; 7-30s, 107.

Railroads—Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 80½; Fort Wayne, 102¼; North Western, common 62¼; North Western—preferred, 74; New York Central, 122⅜; Erie, 68⅜; Old Southern, 80; Ohio & Mississippi, 30¾; Merchants Union Express, 31¾; Western Union Telegraph, 36⅞. Mining Shares—Corydon, 31; Quartz Hill, 1,05. Quicksilver, 26½.

—The home demand for United States securities is likely to be slightly increased by the approach of the first of May. The This eventful date is to the private capitalists, in many respects, what the quarter-day is to the national banks. It is to both a retuan-day—in the one case return to the Comptroller of the Currency, in the other a return to those worthy guardians of the tax-paying masses—tho assessors. In both cases a certain amount of "legitimate" preparation is usually made—the results are of a mixed character. The man who in the spring turns a good share of his property into the United States stocks to escape the "duties," often finds the same shrinking in his hand at the opening of the summer; and, of course, it is easy to see that a small decline would more than swallow up his tax savings. After the twenty-five millions of May 1 gold interest is paid the Government will have a breathing spell till July 1. At the last-named date about nine millions of gold will be required to meet the coupons of the sixes of 1881, and over seventeen millions of gold to pay the coupons due upon the Five Twenties of 1865, and the coupons upon the five and six per cents. of 1868, 1871 and 1874.

—The outstanding old State bank-note circulation of the Boston city banks is now $167,013. Seven years ago the banks of Boston reported $7,000,000 of this circulation. We observe that the bank-note reporters have mostly taken State Banks out of their lists, and that the New York city brokers have generally stopped buying the old currency. All persons now, of course, avoid as far as possible taking the old-fashioned notes. Any one happening to find such paper in hand will generally find it the best plan to send it home at once for redemption, either by mail or by the hands of an express-man—that is if the issuing bank is far away.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, April 24, 1868.

The general markets are apparently less active, notwithstanding the weather is all that could possibly be desired for the transaction of out-door business. There is, however, a fair local demand, and prices, although without quotable change, as a general thing, are firm and well sustained.

BUTTER—Is steady, with a continued fair demand, and we can report regular sales of prime to choice Roll at 45 to 48c.

EGGS—Were in rather better demand, and holders experienced no difficulty in selling at 22c.

POTATOES—Frm but unchanged; sales of Peach Blows at $4 per barrel and $1,40 per bushel, and Buckeyes at $4,50.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches are in light supply and firm at 12 to 13c. Apples very abundant and dull at 6½ to 7½c.

GREEN APPLES—The supply is almost entirely exhausted, and we quote nominally at $5 to $ per bbl.

HAY—Weighmaster McNulty, at the Allegheny Diamond Scales, reports sales of 65 loads of Hay at $24 to $30 per ton; 8 loads of Straw at $14 to $18, and one load of Corn Husks at 3c per pound.

MILL FEED—Sales of 6 tons Oil Meal, on wharf at $44 to $45 per ton. Sales of Bran at $1,80 per cwt, and Middlings at $2,20 to $2,25.

GRAIN—Nothing doing in Wheat and little or none in market. Oats firm with sales on wharf and track at 80c, and in store at 83 to 85c. Corn is firm and tending upward; sale of 300 bushels Shelled in store at $1,10. Rye is firm and advancing, and we now quote at $1,90 to $1,95. Barley is nominal at $2,50—none in market.

SEEDS—Cloverseed is dull; small sales in store at $6,75 to $7. Timothy is quiet and unchanged $2,50. Flaxseed is in good demand at $2,50.

HOMINY—Is dull but unchanged; occasional small sales at $6,25.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is unchanged at 13¾ to 14c for Shoulders; 15½ to 15¾c for Ribbed and 17½ to 18c for Clear sides; 19c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams; and 20c for Canvassed do. Lard, 18½c. Mess Pork, $27,50 to $28.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged; sales of No. 2 at $1,20, and No. 1 at $1,48 to $1,50.

LIME—Sales of White at $2 per bbl.

BEANS—But very few in market; quoted at $4,50 to $5 per bushel.

FLOUR—Is firm but unchanged; we continue to quote at $11 to $11,50 for Spring Wheat; $12 to $12,50 for Winter Wheat, and $14 to $16 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $6,50.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 24, 1868.

The Crude market was again very strong to-day, especially for early deliveries, and as there is but little offering and but little here to offer, prices have still further advanced. We can report a sale of 1,000 bbls for May, seller's option, at 9½c, and we are cognizant of a plump offer for one thousand barrels of spot oil at 9¼c. The secret of the present "flurry" lies in the fact that there are some short sellers for April and May, and we heard of several contracts having been settled to-day, the sellers being unable to deliver the oil. The subject of production, and it is a very important one, is being agitated considerably again, and, as usual, the reports from the oil regions vary about as much as ever. The latest arrival from Oil City reports an increase of 700 to 800 bbls per day, several new wells, it is claimed, having been struck within a few days.

REFINED—This market was also considerably stronger and somewhat excited to-day, and notwithstanding Antwerp has declined to 41¾c, the offers were if anything, better than yesterday, and there was quite a brisk demand for both present and future delivery, and but very few sellers. We are cognizant of offers for spot oil at 26c; May at 26¼c; June at 27¼c; July at 28c; July to December at 29; and August to December at 29 to 29½c. There was but a single sale reported, one thousand barrels, for all the year, buyer's option, at 32c. The principal cause assigned for the advance is a reported decline in freights at Philadelphia, and then, to help the market still more, gold is tending upward.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals reported to-day were as follows: Fisher & Bro., 3,700; Mawhinney & Edwards, 800; Lockhart & Frew, 1,460; Dilworth & Bro., 2300; W. McCutcheon, 60—total, 8,320 bbls.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 25, 1868.

There was a fair demand for certain descriptions of Crude Iron—a fair amount of business is being transacsed, as the sales below would indicate. The receipts are now moderate, and prices, especially of leading forge Irons are fairly maintained. Foundry Irons are in excess of the demand, and concessions are offering in order to effect sales:

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 24.—Dry Goods market decidedly more active and firmer under a further rise in cotton. All standard makes of heavy brown sheetings have been bought up or withdrawn from sale. Goods like Broadway sheetings now bring 17½; Jaconia B 16½, while Bedford R is steady at 16¾. The whole tone of the market is towards a rise, much against the will of jobbers, whose stocks have run down. Cottonades of good makes have been active at 40; holders ask an advance of 2½c. Colored Cottons of various makes selling at prices below cost, and while the western trade are waiting for goods to decline, the prospect is they will advance. The Print market is firm, and no one now contemplates the reducing of prices. American command 14½; Amoskeag 14, Oriental 14; Sprargues 14½; do W 15½a16 for fancies, pinks and purples.

Chicago Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 24.—Live Hogs firm and steady, and rather better for light lots; sales at $8,12½a8,50 for light, and $8,75a9,25 for fair to good grades. Beef Cattle moderately active; sales at $6,35a7,25 for butchers' stock; $5,50a9,00 for medium to fair, and $8,25a9,25 for choice to good.

Baltimore Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, April 24.—Flour active at yesterday's prices. Wheat firm; red $3,00a3,15. Corn—white dull, at $1,10a1,11; yellow firm at $1,21a1,22. Oats very dull; western at 82c. Rye firm at $2,15. Pork firm. Bacon quiet. Lard firm; all unchanged.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

A MOTHER'S LEGACY.

A dearly loved mother—over whose grave the white roses have blossomed and faded throughout many a June—very often repeated to her children the old legend that Jerome relates of the beloved disciple; how in his last years, when from his infirmities he was unable to converse connectedly, he continually repeated to himself the words: "Little children, love one another." He answered, when questioned, that it was his Lord's command, and "if that was done, it was enough."

What a charm was in those words, spoken by her gentle voice, to still the petty strifes of childhood.

Away in California of old, before it had been drawn nearer to us by magic iron bands, or linked by flashing wires—the El Dorado upon whose wastes so many hopes lie shipwrecked—wandered the mother's only boy. In a secluded spot stood the log hut of a "prospecter," patterned after hundreds of others, many worse, few better. It consisted of one dim room, lighted only by the open door, or a sunbeam straying through the large chimney. A bed of rough blankets, tossed into a heap, occupied a corner. On the ash-covered hearth, of rough stones, stood a kettle that had been used, unwashed, one would not like to think how long, or question whether dogs and men did not have access to it, indiscriminately. Upon the table were scattered, in dire confusion, dirty plates and dishes; pieces of dry, gray looking bread, variegated with yellow stripes of saleratus; pork, boiled, fried and raw; candle ends in scooped out potatoes; lumps of quartz or "blossom-rock;" the whole medley crowned by an old rusted pan, in which here and there glittered a speck of the precious dust for which all comforts of civilization are bartered.

The rough men who occupied this cabin—rough because of the absence of those humanizing influences that gather around the firesides where wife and children await to meet the father when the day's work is done—have left this comfortless abode for their usual labor in the mountains. The evening previous, in trying their skill upon a deserted "Lole," they had dug a few feet and uncovered a seemingly rich lode. Burning with eagerness, they had gone out after sunrise to follow up their discovery. There were three of them, two middle aged men, and a youth of eighteen. They had traveled across the plains in company, and had formed a sort of partnership, agreeing to share alike in good or ill fortune.

But the greed of gold everywhere foster the same evil passions and blunts the best feeling of the heart. The boy Robert—the mothers's boy—had really discovered indications which led to the discovery of the lode, and was willing to share with his companions according to the terms of their partnership. He was about thirteen when his mother died, leaving him to be buffetted by heartlessness and injustice, and to pick up associates whose influence was far from beneficial; but the sense of right, the yielding of self for the sake of others, as early impressed by her, had been crushed out.

To the two men hardened at the prospect of enriching themselves, he seemed a character easily influenced. They dared not cheat each other, but combined to cajole the poor boy out of his expected portion of good hopes. When they found, however, that day after day he worked on, insensible to all hints to "go higher up the mountain and prospect a little," and quietly insisted, in spite of their assertions to the contrary, that he had been the first to discover the lode, and meant to maintain his right to the share of the gold; the look of avarice tempted them to threatening words, and finally to ruffianly blows.

"Do you 'spose a boy like you's going to lay down the law to us? Take that for your share," and the speaker hurled a huge piece of quartz at the lad. The boy dodged it, but in so doing his foot slipped and he fell, striking his head violently upon the projecting point of a rock. There he lay insensible and out of their way at last.

"Good enough for him," said the man. "He'll hold his tongue now, I reckon."

"Shut up," said the other. "I didn't come here to be a murderer. Curse the gold and you too." Throwing down his pick, he hastened to the prostrate boy and endeavored to bring him back to consciousness. After a time he was partially successful. Then compelling his companion to assist, they made a rough hurdle, and laying the boy upon it, took him to the comfortless cabin.

He soon roused out of the stupor following the blow, but not to sanity. He lay for a few days in the delirium of fever. In his gentle, dreamy wanderings, his memory carried him back to the home group, gathered about their mother, in the twilight of long years gone by. "Little children, love one another," he would murmur, with such a peaceful smile about his lips, that the rough nurses grew tender-hearted at the sight.

"Don't quarrel, Ben," he would say, as a half consciousness of the present came over him—"forgiving one another in love—she said that, too—Jesus told her—and when he comes we shall be like Him—love, all love.' And at length, as he faintly whispered these words, the Savior called him away.

They buried him in a shady grove that lay behind the hut, beside a little stream that came leaping down from the mountain. The man, Ben, hewed a sapling from the grove, in a rude resemblance of a cross, cutting upon it in uneven letters, the one word "Love," and when, in after years, he told the story with his own children clinging about him, he always added, "and whatever else you forget, boys, never let go that verse."

The Last Railroad Disaster.

The editor of the La Crosse Democrat passed over the New York and Erie road a few days prior to the late dreadful accident. In a letter to the Democrat he describes the condition of the track between Oswego and Port Jervis as in "terrible order." The following passage from the letter written before the accident occurred is worth reproducing:

"The rails are bent, loosened and twisted as we never saw them before. The ties teter up and down as we pass over them, splashing mud and water in little jets from under them as the train passes over. The ties are rotten to a great extent, and we could see the angel of death flitting along by the side of the train as if in doubt whether to hurl us all into the valley to the left of us as we neared Port Jervis, or to wait for more victims, ours being the Sunday train and very light—hardly worth the attention of the fell destroyer.

"We never before rode under the shadow of the black wing as for miles here. It seemed as if death was holding back for us to pass out of courtesy, and we so remarked to Mr. Rankin, of the Chicago and Northwestern road, whom we were glad to meet on the train, and who rejoiced with us on aariving at even tide, at New York several hours late.

"If there are, this spring, no terrible accidents on this road, we shall think Providence, and not the officers of the road, will be entitled to praise, for the road-bed is in terrible order—neglected by the great railway kings of New York, who are quarreling over the control of the road, while the road itself is going to decay."

Romantic Marriage.

The father of the late Viscount Ashbrook, when very young, and residing with his family in the Queen's County, Ireland, was struck with the beauty of an Irish peasant girl, named Elizabeth Ridge, who was in the habit of punting a ferry-boat across the stream in the vicinity of Castle Durrow. The love-sick youth took every opportunity of enjoying the society of his beloved water nymph; but carefully concealed from his parents the impression she had made upon his bosom.

He then held an ensign's commission in some regiment which was quartered near the castle; but he was too young to think of matrimony; nor was the object of his affection, either, old enough or sufficiently educated to become his wife. She had been reared among the Irish peasants, and had been unused to shoes and stockings; was scarcely acquainted with the English language, and was wholly uninformed in matters of the world; but the young ensign fancied that, in spite of these disadvantages, he could perceive an aptitude of mind and soundness of intellect, united with great amiability of temper, in addition to her personal perfections.

Under these circumstances, he conceived the romantic idea of submitting her to the superintendence of some respectable female, capable of rendering her, through the influence of education, an associate suitable to his wishes and his rank.

The lovely ferry-girl was accordingly placed under the tuition of a lady, at whose house Captain Flower occasionally visited her, and where he marked, from time to time, with all the enthusiasm of a romantic lover, her progress in various polite accomplishments.

Elizabeth Ridge remained in this situation about three years, when the efflux of time, as well as some domestic occurrences, enabled Captain Flower to reap the reward of his constancy and honorable conduct by a matrimonial union. And the blushing daughter of the Emerald Isle became ultimately the Viscountess Ashbrook, the lady of the castle beneath whose walls her early charms had, like the rays of the rising sun, beamed for a time unnoticed, only to become more effulgent and more admired. By the Viscount she had several sons and daughters.

The Iron Manufacture.

In Troy, New York, which is second only to Pittsburgh in the extent of its iron interests, wrought iron declined in price during all last year, the extent of the fall being from fifteen to twenty dollars per ton of 2,240 lbs.; but the manufacture was not suspended, and wages remained untouched. This was continuing production at a loss, and absorbing capital. In December, 1867, the market still being in the same condition, the alternatives presented themselves to the manufacturers, of either suspending the works or reducing the cost of production; and the workmen acted wisely in accepting a reduction in their wages of from ten to twenty per cent. It was inevitable, or the mills must stop. The works had been carried on for a year at a loss. There was no prospect of an advance in prices. On the contrary, foreign iron was sharply competing in the market, and nothing but the premium on gold (an entirely abnormal element in trade) sustained American iron.

The reduction has enabled the mills to continue at work, some in filling orders, and others, who are strong enough, in accumulating stock, to await better times. Messrs. E. Corning & Co., of the Albany works, wielding a heavy capital, were willing during the summer to take the venture of laying in an unusually heavy stock of raw material, such as coal and pig metal, notwithstanding the depressed condition of the market for the manufactured product. As it has turned out, these purchases were wise, and have enabled them to manufacture considerably in excess of former years, and the consequence is that their workmen, having been fully employed, have actually earned more money than before the reduction.

The spring, as yet, has brought no advance in the price of iron, and the condition of that interest in Troy applies equally to Cleveland, Pittsburgh and other iron centres.

We have an abiding hope that the coming summer will rectify a good many of the vexed questions of trade. The country is dependent for its prosperity on its crops. With an abundant harvest this year, following the fair one of last, the price of breadstuffs cannot hold up, and their decline will speedily bring about an equalization of values.—Cleveland News.

THE extraordinary number of prominent men in the army and civil service, furnished by Ohio during the late war, has been frequently noticed. Grant, Sherman, McPherson, Gilmore, and many other names, will readily occur to the reader. Chase and Dennison, in Mr. Lincoln's cabinet, were also from Ohio.

A correspondent reminds us that in the impeachment trial Ohio also holds a prominent place. Mr. Chase, of Ohio, as Chief Justice, presides; Mr. Wade, of Ohio, is the president pro tem. of the Senate, and succeeds to the Presidency in case Mr. Johnson is removed; Mr. Stanbery, of Ohio, lately Attorney General, is chief among the President's counsel; Mr. Stanton, of Ohio, holds the place which is the occasion of the struggle; and Judge Cartter, of Ohio, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, was the judge before whom General Thomas was brought for violating the Tenure-of-Office law.

THE Cleveland Leader believes that Mr. CHASE would not accept the Republican nomination for the Presidency, and adds: "We also know it to be true that he would not take, or consider for an instant, a nomination from the democratic party to any office whatever. We have authority for saying that Mr. Chase has at present no political aspirations, and while we believe him, in ability, in education, and in principles, the fittest and best man for the Presidency now living, we honor his determination to withdraw himself from active and partisan politics to the serener duties to which his present high office assigns him. That he is, however, at all in sympathy with the present democratic party, is false; that he ever would be is next to impossible."

THAT was a very shrewd way that was adopted in the olden time, in Zurich, to test the truth in divorce cases. When a couple asked to be divorced on account of incompatibility of temper they were first ordered to be shut up for a fortnight in a single room, and condemned to endure each other's society continually. They had but one room, but one bed, but one chair, one plate, one knife and one fork. In every act each was dependent upon the courtesy of the other. At the end of the time, if they still desired to be divorced, the request was granted, but it usually happened that before the time came sympathy in misfortune had reconciled them with each other.

THE new Chassepot rifle has cost the French army twenty million dollars thus far. Russia, for the Remington rifle, has paid twenty-two million dollars, and Austria sixteen million. Great Britain has paid thirteen million dollars for the new Snyder rifle. Its first cost is less than that of the Chassepot, but it is ultimately dearer, owing to the expense of its cartridges.

AN ACT authorizing the MAKING OF

New Indexes of the Records contained in the Deed Books in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County, and Regulating the manner in which the same shall hereafter be kept.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Judges of the District Court of the county of Allegheny be and they are hereby authorized and directed to cause to be made, in the manner hereinafter directed, a complete set of new indexes, direct and adsectum, of the Records contained in the Deed Books in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny county, said indexes to be done in a plain, bold, round hand-writing.

SECTION 2. That the said indexes shall be divided into indexes of the Central, Northern and Southern Districts, and shall respectively contain as follows, to wit: The Central shall be an index of the record of all instruments relating to property situate between the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers; the Northern of all such as relates to property situate north of the Allegheny and Ohio rivers; and the Southern of all such as relates to property situate south of the Monongahela and Ohio rivers; and when any record relates to property situate in any of said rivers, such record shall be indexed in the indexes of both of the districts between which such river flows.

SECTION 3. That each of said indexes shall have plainly printed upon its back the name of the district of which it is the index, and shall contain the name or the grantor or grantee, the date of acknowledgment and the date of record of each instrument indexed therein, ac also the volume and page where the same is recorded.

SECTION 4. That it shall be the duty of the said Judges, after the passage of this act, and for the purposes of the same, to appoint a Commission, to consist of three members of the bar of said county, familiar with the records kept in said office, who shall have power to contract with one or more persons for the making of said indexes, which contract, when approved by the said Judges, shall become operative and binding upon all parties interested; Provided, That the party or parties contracting to make said indexes shall give a bond, with two sufficient sureties, said bond to be approved by the said Judges, for the faithful performance of said contract, in such amount as is now by law required to be given by the Recorder of Deeds of said county.

SECTION 5. That the said party or parties contracting as aforesaid to make the said indexes shall receive therefor such compensation as shall be agreed upon or fixed in and by said contract, the same to be paid at such time or times, and in such manner, as shall be so agreed upon, out of the treasury of said county, upon the order or orders of said Commissioners, countersigned by one of the Judges of said Court, upon which order or orders, which shall be directed to the Commissioners of said county, the said Commissioners shall issue their warrant or warrant for the payment of the same, in like manner as other claims against the said county are now by law paid.

Notice to Contractors.

THE UNDERSIGNED COMMISSIONERS appointed by the District Court of Allegheny county, in pursuance of the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, (a copy of which said act is herewith published,) for the purpose of contracting with one or more persons for the making of new indexes to the deed books in the Recorder's office in said county, hereby give notice that Sealed Proposals for the making of said indexes will be received until TUESDAY, May 12th, 1868.

All Books and Stationery necessary to be used in performing the said work will be required to be furnished by the contractor or contractors. The Commissioners will reserve to themselves the right to be consulted, and if necessary to direct as to the size, character, &c., of the books in which the final indexes are entered, and the contractor or contractors will be allowed for the actual cost of the said final index books in addition to the contract price for performing said work.

The Commissioners also reserve to themselves the right to supervise the work, and on the completion of the indexing of each volume of the deed books to rescind the contract, if the work does not meet their approbation.

Each bid will be required to contain the price per page and the time within which the bidder will undertake to complete the contract.

Each bid will be accompanied with the names of the sureties proposed to be given, for the faithful performance of the work.

The bids will be addressed, through the post office, to the Commissioners, No. 68 Grant street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Commissioners reserve to themselves the right to reject or accept any bid or bids as in their judgment may be most conducive to the public interest.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

An Alleged Robbery—The Accused Arrested and Discharged.

We noticed in yesterday morning's Gazette, the fact that L. B. Kelley had been taken to a house of ill fame and robbed of sixty dollars, also the arrest of Thomas Devine, alleged to be one of the parties who relieved him of his money. Yesterday Ed McGann and James Brightmore, his alleged accomplices, were arrested, and in company with Devine taken before Alderman Oston for a hearing. The prosecutor told a straight-forward story relative to the matter, which was in substance as follows: He came to the city Wednesday night about eleven o'clock, on the emigrant train, Pennsylvania Railroad, from Turtle Creek, and went to the Rush House to procure supper and lodgings. The clerk informed him that their beds were all full, and directed him to the St. Lawrence Hotel. He started for the St. Lawrence, and on the way met Devine, on Canal street, who accompanied him. He failed to get accommodations there, when Devine proposed to take him to the Eagle Hotel, and he consented to go. They had proceeded but a short distance when they came to a wagon in which there were three men, a German and two others. Devine insisted upon him getting in the wagon to ride to the hotel. He complied and the German was put out at the corner of Penn and Canal streets. Instead of taking him to the hotel they drove to Fanny Splane's, in Miltenberger's alley, where the wagon was stopped and Devine got off and knocked at the door, opened it and went in, he and McGann following, while Brightmore remained behind. As soon as he entered the house Devine demanded five dollars, which he refused to pay. McGann then took hold of him and told him that he must pay it, and the sooner he done so the better. He still refused, but said rather than have a difficulty he would pay them three dollars, which they agreed to take. He drew his pocket book from his pocket which contained two $20 bills, one $10, a $5, and $5 in small bills, making in all $60. As soon as he exhibited the money, McGann snatched it from him and left the house. He returned to the Rush House, and made this statement, when an officer, who, it appears, saw him get in the wagon, requested him to keep quiet and he would get the man who had taken his money. This statement was made under oath, in a clear, unequivocal manner, notwithstanding he was severely cross-questioned by two lawyers, one of whom so far forgot the dignity of his calling as to not only be impertinent but actually rude with the witness. The officer who made the arrest was sworn and corroborated the prosecutor's statement as to getting in the wagon, and testified that he, the prosecutor, had related to him the night previous substantially the same story. This was the case of the Commonwealth, and it seems to us was sufficient to warrant the Alderman in holding the accused for trial. But he did not think so, and discharged them. The defense introduced the testimony of Fanny Splane and one of her girls, who, we believe, swore that the accused did not take the money from the prosecutor, to the best of their knowledge. Such evidence might be admissible, but we think it of a decidedly negative character. A thousand witnesses might have been produced who could have sworn just as they did.

We do not say the accused were guilty of the robbery; nor is it in the power of a police magistrate to determine the guilt or crime of a prisoner. If he finds in the evidence a probability of guilt, it is his duty to return the case to Court, where a jury shall determine whether the accused is innocent or guilty. We are of the opinion that had this case gone before a grand jury, where the Commonwealth alone is heard, they would have undoubtedly found a true bill against the defendants for robbery, or would have indicted the prosecutor for perjury. He swore positively to the commission of the offense, identified the parties, and was corroborated in at least a portion of his testimony by the officer who made the arrest. Yet the accused were discharged on purely negative testimony.

The Patent Lock Dodge.

The cool impudence with which some scoundrels conduct their nefarious schemes, for robbing unsuspecting and ignorant men of their money, is really remarkable, and how they manage to escape arrest and punishment is passing strange. At almost any hour of the day, or night, a gang of thieving scamps may be seen, at a point on St. Clair street between Penn street and the bridge, using all manner of means to fleece their victims out of their hard earned cash. A favorite game with them is the "patent lock," which is well calculated to "take in" the unwary. The thief, we can call him by no other name, supplies himself with two locks, one of which is quite easily opened, while the other one is simply a dead lock, made in imitation of the genuine one. The lock is shown to the victim, who is allowed to unlock it, after which the thief proposes to bet that he cannot do so again. If the bet is taken, which is generally the case, the lock is returned to the thief, ostensibly for the purpose of locking it, but really to be exchanged for the dead lock, which is handed to the victim, who, of course, fails to unlock it and consequently loses his money. The stakeholder is mostly an accomplice of the thief, and while the victim is engaged with the lock "skips" with the money. This game is extensively practiced upon raftmen, who mostly stop in that quarter of the city, and why the parties who engage in it have not been arrested we are unable to say It is done openly and the authorities know the men who engage in it. It is time such proceedings were brought to an end and those who practice them brought to justice. A few years in the penitentiary might be beneficial to such characters.

Serious Accident—Leg Broken.

Thursday evening about six o'clock an accident of a very serious character occurred on Penn street, near St. Clair, by which a son of Mr. William Mechling, a wholesale liquor dealer on Liberty street, had his right leg broken above the knee, and was otherwise seriously injured. Mr. M., accompanied by his mother-in-law and son, who is about four years of age, had been out riding in a close carriage. Having returned, he stopped at the door of his residence, assisted his mother-in-law from the carriage and was about to lift the little boy out, when the horse took fright and dashed down street. Opposite the Fourth ward school house the carriage came in collision with another vehicle and the child was thrown out, falling in front of the wheel, which passed over his legs. The child was carried into a house and Drs. Childs and Duncan, who happened to be passing at the time, attended him. The fracture was reduced and the little fellow removed to his home.

Perjury.—Austin K. Buoy made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging Henry Wagoner with perjury. Wagoner is a son of the proprietor of the Mansion House, and the prosecutor was recently a porter there. A few weeks since Wagoner made information charging Buoy with the larceny of a flute, which was subsequently withdrawn, and Buoy feeling himself agrieved, made information charging Wagoner with perjury. He was arrested and held for a hearing.

Honorary Visitors.—By order of the Secretary of the Treasury, Geo. McCleane, Esq., Surveyor of the Port of Pittsburgh, has appointed Messrs. Dr. R. B. Monroy, John Holmes, Esq. and Josiah King, Esq., as honorary visitors to the United States Marine Hospital.

Funeral of Col. J. Heron Foster.

The body of our late lamented fellow citizen, Col. J. Heron Foster, editor-in-chief of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, was yesterday laid to rest in the Allegheny Cemetery. At the house of the deceased, previous to the solemn funeral procession, and where many of our fellow citizens called to pay the last tribute of respect to the departed, the impressive burial services of the Episcopal Church were read by the venerable Rev. Dr. Page. The corpse was borne to the Cemetery, followed by one of the most imposing funeral processions of a private citizen we have ever witnessed in this neighborhood. The order of the procession was as follows:

Military escort from the old 13th Pennsylvania Regiment, and other regiments, in charge of Gen T. A. Rowley.

Typographical Union.
Citizens on foot.
Carriages containing Ministers.
Carriages containing

F. H. Eaton,	Simon Johnston,
James P. Barr,	D. Sands,
Alex. M'Elwaine,	Jos. Hartman,
A. P. Callow,	R. C. G. Sproull.

As Pall-bearers.
Hearse.
Carriages containing mourners.
Forty Carriages containing friends and acquaintances of deceased.

The solemn procession attracted much attention as it moved slowly through the streets, and at the cemetery a large number of persons were awaiting its approach to participate in the last sad rites at the grave. The corpse was lowered to the grave, while Rev. Dr. Page addressed the prayers to the Throne of Grace assigned by the Episcopal Church for such mournful occasions, and many a tear coursed many a cheek as the rude earth rolled on the coffin, sternly fulfilling the Divine decree of "dust to dust." Thus was laid to his last, long and final resting place the mortal remains of a man worthy the respect of all and deserving the enmity of none.

The Soldiers' Monument.

At the last meeting of the Executive Committee of the Soldiers' Monument Association it was resolved to have the monument erected in the Cemetery, and Mr. Chislett was authorized to advertise for the erection of the monument in accordance with the design adopted. The selection of the Cemetery, as a place for a public monument, appeared to us at the time rather novel, and we yet fail to see the propriety of it. Were it a tomb or a vault, in which to deposit the bones of the heroic dead whose memory the monument is intended to perpetuate, the Cemetery would be an appropriate place for it, but it is certainly not a very suitable place for a monument. The object of the monument is not alone to commemorate the fallen heroes, but while that is the main object to be attained, we desire to give an expression of our appreciation of their noble services, to the world, and should therefore place the monument in that place most easy of access, where it will attract the most attention, and where it will be most visited. If this is not one of the principal objects, a plain slab with the names of those in whose memory it is erected carved upon it would answer the purpose. The action of the Committee in selecting the Cemetery meets with almost general disapproval, and a meeting has been called this afternoon at two o'clock, when if possible that action will be reconsidered. We have no suggestions to make as to where it should be placed, so that it is kept out of grave yards. We, in common with all mankind, have a horror for grave yards, cemeteries, and all other places of burial, and never visit them only when necessity requires it. We hope the Committee will reconsider the matter.

Death of an Aged Minister.

The death of Rev. C. A. Walther, which occurred at his late residence on Smithfield street, about eleven o'clock on Friday morning, will be learned with the most profound sorrow, and deep regret by his many friends and acquaintances, and particularly by the members of the German Reformed Church, at Smithfield and Sixth street, with which congregation he has been connected for a number of years as pastor. He was one of the oldest divines in the city, having reached the age of seventy-four years, and was beloved and esteemed not only by the members of his congregation, but by a wide circle of his acquaintances. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity for forty-nine years, being connected with Solomon Lodge, of this city, and at the time of his death was Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, and will be attended by the Masonic fraternity.

To the Oil Regions.

The business on the Allegheny Valley Railroad since its extension through to Venango city has been very large and steadily increasing. Through excellent and careful management, this route to the Pennsylvania oil regions has grown very popular as a safe and reliable one. The Company run cars directly through without change to Venango city, connecting with east and west on the Warren and Franklin Railroad and the Atlantic and Great Western Railway, and forming the quickest and shortest direct route to Oil City, Franklin, and other oil centers. In our advertising columns will be found the schedule of time. Persons wishing to visit the oil regions must not forget that this is the only direct route, and that the road is in first class order from beginning to terminus, and that the cars are well fitted and modern, while the officers in charge of them are careful and experienced railroad employes.

Bold Theft.—Thursday afternoon one of the officers in the Custom House building removed his coat for the purpose of washing, preparatory to going home, and being called to another part of the building, left his coat hanging on a chair in his office. He returned in a few moments, and found that a diary, containing upwards of eighty dollars, and private papers of value were missing. Some of the clerks in an adjoining office noticed a man passing into the room where the coat was hanging, but were unable to give a description which would lead to the identification of the thief.

The Effects of Petroleum on Fish.—The deleterious nature of matter ejected from oil refineries was strongly manifested yesterday in the Allegheny at the foot of Borough street, Lawrenceville. Fifty-nine dead Jack Samon lay on or near the shore, in a distance of a hundred yards, all destroyed by the water from one refinery immediately above. If it has so fatal an effect upon the finny tribe, it is to be presumed it is not altogether wholesome.

The Allegheny Fair in Washington Hall, is growing to be quite an enticing place, arising out of the varied attractions, and especially the municipal contest for the superb gold headed cane. Last night Mayor Blackmore had 305 votes against Mayor Drum's 310. Pittsburgh must pull up and do better or Allegheny will triumph. In the contest for the stand of colors the Light Guards leads the Heath Zouaves forty votes.

An Obstruction.—Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock a wagon heavily loaded with metal, broke down on Penn street, near the car station. The wagon was on the railway track, and the driver was endeavoring to pull off, when one of the front wheels gave way and let the wagon down. The cars were detained for over half an hour in consequence of the accident.

Y. M. C. A.—The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in their rooms, No. 23 Fifth street, this evening at 7½ o'clock. A full attendance is requested. The first annual report of the Association is now ready for distribution.

Amusements.

PROF. TETEDOUX'S CONCERT. — The second concert given by Mr. Tetedoux last evening at the Academy of Music was very fairly attended in point of numbers. The audience presented a brilliant assemblage of the fashionable and cultivated people of the city, who recognized by the hearty applause the decided merit of their varied entertainment offered to them. It would be invidious to particularize, where all the amateur singers acquitted themselves so well, and it as quite unnecessary to commend the vocalization of M'lle De Lussan whose high reputation as an artiste has been already signalized by so many professional triumphs. The gratification of an appreciative audience was attested by repeated encores, which were gracefully and promptly responded to. We must be permitted to congratulate Mr. Tetedoux upon the extraordinary success as an instructor which was exhibited in the proficiency of his pupils, to the young ladies and gentlemen, who have in these two concerts contributed so much to the welfare of the music-loving people of the city, this sincere acknowledgment of their discriminating and delighted audiences are due.

OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. Edwin Forest closed his engagement at this place of amusement last evening, appearing to poor advantage in "Damon and Pythias," before a respectably large audience. His engagement, so far as the pecuniary interests of the management was concerned, was a success, but in every other way it was a decided failure. Perhaps, had the famous old tragedian received support from a less brilliant (?) stock company than that which illumes the boards of the Opera House, his defects as an actor would not have been so glaringly apparent to those critically disposed, while his few redeeming merits might have advantageously shone forth to sustain the reputation he once enjoyed. Should he ever come back this way let him not be heralded as the greatest living tragedian, unless, indeed, a large number of his contemporaries for public favor precede him into the dark shadow of death.

THE OLD THEATRE.—Leo Hudson, with her trained horse Black Bess, has been drawing very large houses at the "Old Drury." She is vivacious, and to those who can appreciate sprightly acting, muscular development and sensational dramas, highly interesting. Her horse is marvellously well trained. A good Saturday night bill is offered.

BURNELL'S MUSEUM.—The attendance at this place of entertainment and instruction has been quite large, and new curiosities are daily added to the really fine collection of animal life on exhibition. Children should be taken there to be amused, delighted and instructed.

In Memoriam.

At a meeting of Post 35, Department of Pennsylvania, G. A. R., on Thursday evening, April 23d, the following resolutions in relation to the death of J. Heron Foster, a member of the post, were offered by the committee appointed at the special meeting of the Post on the evening previous, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Divine Providence to remove from our midst our late friend and comrade, Col. J. Heron Foster, therefore be it

Resolved, That while we bow with submission to the will of "Him who doeth all things well," we cannot but feel that we as a Post have parted with a true and trusty comrade, one whose memory will ever remain dear.

Resolved, That we bear our merited and hearty testimony to the possession by the deceased of the many excellent qualities, which command the highest respect and esteem, and we feel that the community has lost one of its most useful citizens.

Resolved, That in the death of our late comrade the poor and destitute have lost a sincere friend—one whose heart and purse were ever open to those who were in need.

Resolved, That we tender to the widow and family of the deceased our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their great bereavement.

Attempted Burglary.—An attempt was made by burglars to enter the residence of Mr. Bingham, on Gregg street, Birmingham, Thursday evening. They were working at the shutter of a back window, and almost succeeded in forcing the fastenings when they were compelled to stop operations in consequence of the appearance of the proprietor of the establishment, who was awakened by the noise they made.

Cross Suits.—Margaret J. Bolinger made information before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, charging her sister-in-law, Mary A. Bolinger, with selling liquor without license, and the defendant in the above case made information charging the prosecutrix with the same offense. The parties reside in Plum township. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

Assault.—Mary Shields made information before Alderman Thomas yesterday, charging Mary Duffy with assault. She alleges that the accused drew her fist in a threatening manner, and made an effort to strike her. The defendant was arrested and held to bail for her appearance at Court

Post 100 of the G. A. R. have secured elegant apartments in Quincy Hall, Lacock street, Allegheny, where regular meetings are held every Friday evening. Through the liberality and enterprise of such spirited members as Post Adjutant W. R. Stokes this branch cannot fail to prosper.

The Great Western band was out in full force yesterday, on the occesion of the funeral of Col. Foster, and discoursed the exquisitely sweet music for which it is proverbial. This is now one of the best instrumental brass bands on the American continent.

"He knows his nose; I know he knows his nose; he knows I know he knows his nose." So said the Jester, and might have added, he knows his nose knows no more fragrant and delicate odor than the "Flor del Espiritu Santo." Woodworth's new perfume.

Get the Best, They Always Give Satisfaction.

Every week Dr. Scott is called upon to insert artificial teeth, in cases where other dentists have tried, been paid, and failed, and in every case his work gives entire satisfaction. He is quite an artist in his line of business, and never fails to articulate teeth so that they will present a handsome and natural appearance, and masticate the food thoroughly. His prices are lower than those of any Dentist in the city, and he will GUARANTEE his work to be SUPERIOR. So it would be better for any of our readers who are in want of teeth, to call upon the Doctor in the first place, and thereby save their time and money. We would also assure those persons who are suffering with diseased and unsightly teeth, that they can have them extracted without any pain whatever, by calling upon Dr. Scott. HE HAS EXTRACTED FOR OVER TWENTY THOUSAND persons without injury resulting in a single case. On the contrary, he can refer to numbers of his patients who claim to have been benefitted in renewed health. He gives a full set of teeth for $8, and full upper and lower for $12. Call and examine his specimens before ordering elsewhere. No. 278 Penn street, third door above Hand.

Worthy of Note.

The high terms in which experienced business men speak of the system of practical business education pursued at the Iron City College. the large number of students who attend there, and the well known efficiency of its graduates, show that it is a great advance upon the old methods of instruction. In it theory and practice are so combined as to secure the most complete results of an educational process. There is no doubt but every individual in the commuuity would be greatly benefitted by a course of study and business training in this institution. For particulars regarding the course of study and the method pursued, we refer our readers to the circular of the College, to be had on addressing the Principals, Smith & Cowley Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Soldiers' League and Firemen's Prayer Meeting.

To-morrow (Sunday) afternoon, at four o'clock, there will be prayer meeting held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association: In the Allegheny fire engine house, Irwin street, Pittsburgh; in the Soldiers' League library rooms, on Lacock street, opposite the Ancher Cotton Works, Allegheny, and in the reading rooms of the Association, on the corner of Beaver avenue and Locust streets Manchester. These meetings are largely attended, and are of a very interesting character.

Voluntary Testimonial.

The following unsolicited and unexpected testimonial will speak for itself:

"This is to certify that I was afflicted for several years past with discharges from my ears, which was very painful—losing my hearing partially, which Dr. Aborn, at 134 Smithfield street, has entirely cured in a few day's treatment, without any pain. As six months have elapsed since my cure was effected, I feel confident it is permanent. I will cheerfully answer all inquiries.

The Return of Spring.—Bright Spring is here with its warm, heart gladdening sun and deliciously perfumed breezes. All nature wears a new livery, and Liebler, the skillful Trunk Manufacturer, No. 104 Wood street, continues to supply his numerous wholesale and retail patrons with the best articles in his line, offered in this market. Mr. Liebler's is the only house where Trunks, Valises, Carpet Sacks, Satchels, &c., are exclusively made and dealt in. His stock is very large and presents admirable assortment, while his prices are exceedingly reasonable.

The Renown of Burnett's Standard Preparations. For more than eight years these Preparations have maintained a large and constantly increasing sale, sustaining the opinion of the best judges that they are unrivalled.

Burnett's Oriental Tooth Wash is a preserver of the teeth, and beautifies them without injury to the enamel. In this respect it stands alone. The evidence of Chemists and of the Dental Faculty substantiates these facts. TTST

A "General" Item.—Maj. Generals Rosseau and Burnside, the former travelling eastward, and the latter to the west, met at the Union Depot, yesterday. The meeting although brief and unexpected, was nevertheless a pleasant and apparently enjoyable one to the heroes. They had barely time to shake hands and exchange compliments when "railroad time" which "waits for no man," compelled Gen. Rosseau to take his departure.

A Man's Back Very Expensive.—A gentleman of wealth has traveled over Europe and America, visited every medical institute of notoriety and paid over $5,000, to rid himself of pain in the small or lower part of the back, from which he had suffered twenty years without a moment of cessation, until he called at Dr. Wolcott's office, 170 Chatham square, New York, and 622 Arch street, Philadelphia, in the Drug Store, where all are relieved of all pain free of cost in less than ten minutes by painting with Dr. Wolcott's Pain Paint. All pain was gone and he exercised himself by assuming various postures and movements of his body which he had never been able to do since first attacked. Sold by all druggists at 25 cents, 50 cents, $1 and $5 a bottle. It invigorates the feeble, gives tone to the body, leaves no stain, is perfectly harmless in most delicate cases.

The crowd is welcome, let them try,
Pain Paint is free; or, if they buy,
As if by magic comes repose,
Folks lose their aches—forget their woes.

All pain cured free of charge. We keep the annihilator, the only sure remedy for Catarrh, 116 Smithfield street. S. H. Hastings, Agent.

The Munson Lightning Rod.

MASSACHUSETTS AGRICULT'L COLLEGE,
AMHERST, MASS., March 4, 1868.

GENTLEMEN—I regard the Munson Copper Tubular Lightning Rod superior to any other before the public. It is a better conductor, and less liable to fail from any cause, to carry safely to the earth an electric discharge than an iron rod six times the size. It is firmly united so as to form a continuous conductor, and from its lightness and pliability is, when fastened to buildings, much less likely to break the insulators and get out of place than a heavy rod. By order of our Board the Munson Rod has been attached to the six buildings of the State Agricultural College. W. S. CLARK, President.

Manufactured by Lockhart & Co., Duquesne Way, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Laughing Gas Dangerous.—It has caused Death and Insanity, so don't risk so dangerous an anæsthetic, but call upon Dr. Scott, No. 278 Penn street, third door above Hand, and have your teeth extracted by his painless process, which he will guarantee to be Entirely Safe. No charge for extracting when artificial teeth are ordered. A full set for $8. All work warranted. Dr. Scott manufactures Genuine Vulcanite, and will insert dried rubber ("bogus vulcanite") sets for $12, such as are advertised elsewhere for $15.

Disconsolate Bachelors Rejoice.—Home made shirts played out. The Star Shirt, made by Cree Brothers, 26 Fifth street, is cheaper, and has a "set" and finish unequalled. They always guarantee a perfect fit. They are offering at very low prices, extra English half-hose handerkerchiefs, and gentlemens' spring under wear. They are headquarters for gentleinens' furnishing goods. Give them a call.
